WISCONSIN TOWN IS FLOOD SWEPT

River Swept Through Water Company's Dam Upon Little City Below.

BUSINESS HOUSES DESTROYED

Inhabitants Flee to Highlands—May be No Loss of Life but Fearful Destruction of Property. The Situation.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 6.—The situation at Black River Falls, the prosperous little city of 2,000 inhabitants which was swept by a flood this afternoon when the water of the Black river, swollen by recent rains, washed through the embankment of the La-Crosse Water Company's dam at Hatfield, is tonight worse by far than was even feared when the flood swept upon the city.

Half of the business part of the city has been destroyed, together with a part of the residence district, and it is alleged by the townspeople who have taken refuge on high lands, that the city will be wiped out. Whether or not lives have been lost is not yet certain. The people have been scattered and tonight canvasses are being made to determine how many, if any, are missing. Thus far two persons have not been accounted for.

At 7 o'clock tonight between 25 and 30 business houses, comprising all the stores on both sides of two streets, have been destroyed, together with an equal number of houses. At that hour the waters were still rising rapidly and the destruction of the stores on the other two business streets were predicted before morning.

The buildings have not been merely flooded but swamped. The water came in tremendous volume, undermined big building after another and as each collapsed, the debris for the most part was carried away. The Tremont Hotel, a three story structure, was the first to go. No precaution could be taken to stop the wrecking of the town, the residents finding it a difficult problem to secure safety for themselves, families and more valuable possessions. None of the stocks in the stores was saved and little of the heavier furniture in the houses, the people, although they knew of the overflowing of the dam, showed little fear of its effects until the waters burst upon them.

The city tonight is in darkness, the electric light plant being one of the first to be struck by the flood.

The disaster was caused by the sudden rise of the Black River behind the two dams of the LaCrosse Water Power Company, following rains which lasted almost a week. The dams withstood the pressure but in each case the river washed around the sides taking out a big section of the river bank and coming down upon the country below in almost as great volume as though the dams had been swept away. The five million dollar property of the water company is believed to be not greatly damaged and tonight it is said that the main dam which is a concrete structure 100 feet thick at the base and fifty feet at the top would probably stand all the force which might be directed against it.

Besides the damage at Black River Falls a great tract of surrounding country was overrun. Effort was made to send warnings to farmers but telephone wires soon went down and the fate of many settlers is the cause for some apprehension. Below Black River Falls are a number of villages and the high waters are due to strike them during the night and tomorrow. Cut off by telegraph, the news from Black River Falls is being sent to LaCrosse tonight by the Wisconsin Telephone Company, which has stationed a man on top of a telephone pole. He is sending his report as well as the flooded lines permit.

"Black River Falls is doomed; the town will be wiped off the map," was the comment of W. W. Holcomb, manager of the Standard Oil Company here, who returned tonight from the threatened city.

When I left there at 4 o'clock this afternoon the main portion of the place was under water and the flood was racing down Water street at the rate of apparently 20 miles an hour. Earth disappeared before it as though it were only snow.

"It would seem past belief but I saw a big stone building on a hill, 100 feet from the water, crumble like an egg shell and disappear completely with the hill that supported it. The water had undermined the hill and carried everything away. Shortly afterward a knoll 60 feet north of it was undermined and then the poor house, a great white building, three or four stories went with it.

"When the waters appeared the fire bell called every one to the streets. It was sounded to get the people out to assist the residents on the flats in removing their goods.

"Warehouses and other buildings were swept away clean.

"To get out of the town I had to go around over a railroad bridge, one approach to which had been taken out. There was nothing left in the town to eat.

"I heard of no loss of life. Inhabitants had plenty of time to get out of danger."

Harry Gettman, formerly of the Wisconsin Telephone Company, at Tomah, is the "Jack Binns" of the flood. Perched on the top of a pole with a telephone instrument cut in with only darkness about him and whirling waters shaking the pole, he tonight sent news to LaCross and warnings to all points he could reach. Gettman worked in the flood district all day without food. Wherever he could reach a country exchange or a farmer's telephone he shouted a warning. At 8 o'clock this evening after having been on the pole much of the time since 2 o'clock, Gettman was obliged to descend when its unsteadiness gave him warning that it was soon to fall.

WORLD METHODIST CONFERING

Proposition to Unite All Denominations in United States—Southern Bishop Objects—Seventeen Organizations.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 6.—Statistics relative resources in "men and means in Methodist mission fields," as given today by Rev. James Lewis, of Cambridge, England, proved interesting to the delegates from 17 countries who attended today's sessions of the Ecumenical Methodist Conference in this city.

From the detailed reports presented it appeared that during the last year there were 2,528 Methodist foreign missionaries. These included 918 ordained men and 120 physicians, 53 of the doctors being women. Native workers numbered 20,847, while the number of missionary stations and sub-stations was 6,762. These missionaries represented 708,105 baptized Christians, 1,444,292 adherents of whom 458,165 were Sunday School teachers and scholars. The ordained ministry at the beginning of 1910 was 52,978, of whom but 2,322, or 5 per cent. counting foreigners and natives, were in the mission field.

"Of our total number of ministers throughout the world," said Mr. Lewis, "the average is one to every 174 Methodist church members. In heathen countries the ratio is one Methodist minister to every 303 members. Our means as expressed by the income of the missionary societies in 1910 totalled about $7,000,000, a sum which represents about 80 cents to each of the 8,751,434 Methodists."

Practically every phase of foreign missionary work was discussed by delegates from various fields. An urgent plea was made by the Rev. T. H. Lewis, of West Minster, Md., who is president of the general conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, for a union of American Methodists into one body. This proposition, which has been discussed since the opening of the conference, evidently is favored by a large majority of the United States delegates. Bishop R. E. Hoss, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was the only one to express dissent at today's meetings.

"When you get too big a church it suffers from its own obesity," he said.

Mr. Lewis stated his position in favor of such a union thus:

"We are keeping ourselves back from the greatest opportunity ever offered us by the most unnecessary and inexcusable hindrance ever tolerated If a census of opinion could be taken as to what one circumstance would do most to promote world-wide evangelization among Methodists themselves, enlist missionaries and start a missionary crusade that would set the world aflame with new zeal and hope, I believe an overwhelming majority of all our people would say, 'It is the union of American Methodists into one body. We have 17 different names for Methodists in America, and consequently about as many different missionary campaigns. In the field we compete with each other, duplicate each other's efforts, and confuse those trying to serve."

"Evangelism," Mr. Lewis said, "is essentially the heart of Methodism. But doctrine and policy are only mechanical exponents of the real peculiarities of Methodism. Pierce a Methodist until he bleeds and you find not a dogma, nor a rubric, but a throbbing heart. For him regeneration is not a figure of speech nor a magic formula. Methodism is heart power, rather than mind power, but it has both. Methodists claim to have received a new and peculiar power demonstrated to be of God—a peculiar power of sinners, entailing responsibility for world-wide evangelism."

Among other speakers today were Rev. G. W. Clinton, of Charlotte, N. C bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, who spoke on "The Mission of Methodism to the Backward Races." Rev. David Brock, Southport, Eng., "The Mission of Methodism to the Non-Christian Races," Bishop E. E. Hoss, Nashville, Tenn., "Methodism in Korea."

Missionary mass meetings were held in several Toronto churches tonight.

AUSTIN HORROR UNDER INQUIRY

Three More Bodies and Charred Bones of Others Found.

WRECKAGE HANDS ON STRIKE

Member of Company Owning Fatal Dam Refuses to Testify Before Coroner's Inquest—May be Criminal Prosecution.

Austin, Pa., Oct. 6.—Frederick Hamlin, superintendent of the Bayless Pulp & Paper Company, owners of the dam which broke last Saturday at the expense of many lives and the practical destruction of Austin village, refused to testify upon the advice of counsel, at the coroner's inquest this afternoon.

Further inquiry, which will be held at Coudersport, was adjourned indefinitely and District Attorney Nelson said it would not be resumed for at least two weeks, because of the necessity of securing expert testimony and consulting points of law.

Mr. Hamlin was the last witness. Almost the first question brought his refusal to answer and Walter K. Sweatland, his counsel, announced that inasmuch as it was common report that the inquest was held for the purpose of bringing a criminal prosecution, he had advised his client in this course.

"Do you mean that in answering he might incriminate himself?" asked the district attorney.

"He might incriminate himself or the testimony might be used against him at any subsequent prosecution; therefore, I insist that he ned not answer," replied Mr. Sweatland. "And we stand on our constitutional rights."

The inquest was based on the deaths of Mrs. Jacob Hess, aged 43, and Herbert Reese, aged six, whose bodies are among those found in the ruins. The county medical inspector and others testified that the deaths were the result of the breaking of the dam. Several witnesses told of the buckling of the dam in three places, and described the large fissure through which the water escaped.

With the inquest started and further proceedings removed from Austin, the situation has settled down to the routine of removing the debris, burying bodies, receiving and distributing supplies and rehabilitating Austin. The activity of the day was disturbed by a strike of 200 wreck laborers at Costello, because of long hours. They were at once paid off and ordered to leave.

Three bodies and the charred bones of two others were recovered from the ruins today. This makes the total list of dead 55.

CORRUPTION IN PHILADELPHIA.

Taxpayers' Committee Hot on Trail of Crooked Men

Philadelphia, October 6.—Warrants for the arrest of Director of Public Safety Henry Clay, City Architect; Carl B. Zilengiger, John R. Wiggins, a contractor and builder, and Treasurer Wall, of the latter, were issued today on the affidavit of Logan M. Bullitt, chairman of the taxpayers' committee. The charges are conspired to defraud the city and are an outgrowth of an investigation conducted by the Cattlin senatorial committee. The men will not be taken into custody but will accept service through their attorneys and appear for a hearing. The taxpayers' committee during the past year has brought many civil suits where it was alleged the city had made contracts without proper advertisement and also caused the arrest of several minor officials. Wiggins & Co., were the contractors for a number of police and fire stations and at hearings of the Cattlin commission, it was alleged, they had been given an unfair advantage over other bidders for the work and had been allowed to use less expensive materials than was called for in the original specifications.

TOO MUCH BEULAH BINFORD

Two Richmond Papers Prosecuted by Government

Richmond, Va., October 6.—Indictments charging the publication and mailing of improper matter in connection with the Beattie murder case were returned here today against the Richmond Evening Journal and the Richmond News-Leader, afternoon newspapers, by the grand jury in the United States Circuit Court. The cases are based on an interview with Beulah Binford which appeared in the News-Leader while the girl was held in jail as a witness and the publication by the Evening Journal of certain parts of the evidence given during the trial at Chesterfield. Postoffice Inspector Saffel was the principal witness against the papers.

MONEY FOR U. S. SENATORSHIP

Investigation Into Senator Stephenson's Campaign Shows He Spent $2 for Every Voter in Wisconsin—Corruption.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 6.—After examining 725 items of amounts paid to individuals, who collectively received $107,793 for campaign expenses, the Senatorial committe which is investigating charges of bribery in connection with the election of United States Senator Isaac Stephenson, today heard testimony that money was used for "entertainment" and not for corrupt purposes.

No itemized accounts of the expenses were turned in but Rodney Sackett, one of the campaign managers, testified he had been informed that the money had been used largely for buying cigars and beer. It was the custom in Wisconsin during campaigns, Sackett testified, to send jugs of whiskey and kegs of beer to localities where favorable political sentiment was to be worked up.

All this was given by Sackett as explaining the extent of Senator Stephenson's expenditure for the nomination for senator at the primaries in 1908.

When Senator W. B. Heyburn, the chairman, asked Sackett whether Senator Stephenson had spent almost $2 for entertainment for each of the 56,000 votes he had received, the witness said that that was one way of reckoning it.

"How many votes do you think Senator Stephenson got in consequence of his liberal spending?" Senator Heyburn asked.

"I don't know that he got any on that account," Sackett replied.

"What? Despite all that entertainment, you don't know of a single vote he got for it?"

"Not any."

DR. GALLAGHER DEAD.

Washington Physician Passes Away Suddenly of Apoplexy—Funeral.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., Oct. 6.—Dr. Jas. M. Gallagher, a prominent druggist and physician of this city, died very suddenly at his residence, No. 10 East Main street, last night from the effects of a stroke of apoplexy about 11 o'clock. Dr. Gallagher had been in his usual good health, attending to his business all day, and returned home as usual. On entering his home he was stricken and fell helpless on the front porch. Members of his family and neighbors carried him in the house and physicians were immediately summoned, doing everything possible for him, but in vain. He died in a very short while. Dr. Gallagher was in his 63rd year, a member of the Catholic church, a prominent member of the I. O. R. M., and had large numbers of close friends in this city. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at the residence conducted by Father F. J. Gallagher, of Newbern, and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

TAFT VISITS IN NORTHWEST

Entertained at Pocatello Where He Makes Speech at Fair

Pocatello, Idaho, Oct. 6.—President Taft has turned north again. Tomorrow the Presidential train will invade Washington but will cross back into this State again for a few hours before Mr. Taft leaves it finally to strike out for the Pacific coast.

The President's engagement list for Pocatello included a breakfast with the Commercial Club and an automobile trip to the Banock county fair and an address. At Caldwell he is expected to make a short speech also.

At Boise the programme calls for an inspection of the Boise barracks, among other things. So far on the long trip Mr. Taft has not missed an opportunity to visit army posts along his route.

From Seattle the President expects to cross Puget Sound to Bremerton to visit the navy yard and at San Francisco probably will make a trip to the Presidio military post there.

STRIKE SITUATION BECOMES INTENSE

Rioting in New Orleans Where "Breakers" Were Quartered in Building.

WERE RUSHED OUT OF CITY

Taken on Special Train to McComb, Miss., After Onslaught—Corporal Prevents Loss of Life or Serious Injury.

New Orleans, Oct. 6.—One hundred and eighteen strike breakers employed by the Illinois Central railroad were escorted to a train this afternoon by armed guards and rushed out of the city, after an attack had been made upon them by strikers and sympathizers, where they were quartered in the Old Peters school building.

The onslaught was made with such suddenness that the small police detail at the building had no opportunity to summon reinforcements.

Corporal William Peterson, in charge of the squad, displayed such nerve, however, that the mob spirit wilted and a bloody encounter was averted.

The mob, armed with stones, clubs and other weapons, rushed the building, but with the throwing of the first missile Corporal Peterson pinioned William J. Mason, who threw it and who was the supposed leader of the attack. The next stone was thrown by William Dunn, who also was arrested. The mob started to rescue their leader, but Peterson's threat that his men would shoot to kill, brought the mob to a halt. The arrival of police reserves put an end to further rioting.

The other men fell back two blocks, and dispersed, not, however, until assurances had been given by the city authorities that the strike-breakers would be taken out of New Orleans before dark. This the railroad company had already arranged to do. At 3:30 o'clock the strike-breakers were marched under heavy police guard to a special train and rushed out of the city to McComb, Miss.

Reach McComb City

McComb City, Miss., October 6.—Three carloads of strike-breakers who were today rescued from a mob in New Orleans, arrived here at 8:30 o'clock tonight on a special train under military guard and, without the slightest demonstration, were placed in the Illinois Central shops.

This is the first consignment of strike-breakers to arrive since the enforced departure of the 132 stationed at the shops here following Tuesday night's serious riots.

With the heavy military guard now stationed about the railroad property here a repetition of the rioting of the earlier part of the week is not anticipated.

Th special train from New Orleans was met at Oshka, 14 miles south of McComb City, by an armed guard of soldiers.

A detachment of soldiers from Brookhaven arrived and joined their command here tonight and another machine gun came, making four now in the hands of the military patrol.

At Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 6.—A temporary injunction restraining striking firemen and enginemen of the Georgia & Florida Railroad from interfering with the road's affairs, was issued here this afternoon by Judge William B. Sheppard, of the United States Circuit Court.

The strikers are ordered to show cause before the court on October 16th why the temporary restraining order should not be made permanent.

Cotton to be Moved.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Cotton growers who have their staple piled up at various stations along the lines of the Illinois Central and Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroads since the strike of the employes were notified yesterday by Gen. Solicitor C. N. Burch, of those roads, that beginning with today the embargo would be lifted. Large quantities of cotton are awaiting shipment along the lines of the company.

Twenty-five freight trains were sent out of this city over the lines of the Illinois Central Railroad yesterday. Locally the strike situation remains unchanged.

Messenger Boys Strike.

New Orleans, Oct. 6.—Another body of decidedly militant strikers helped to enliven matters for the police today, when the messenger boys employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company walked out.

The strikers armed themselves with sticks, clubs and stones and threatened trouble for any boys who attempted to take their jobs.

An extra detail of police was necessary to preserve order at the offices of the company.

Strike-Breakers Strike.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Dissatisfied with conditions about the Memphis shops, Illinois Central strike-breakers struck late today and tonight railroad officials assert 100 men were sent to Chicago. At strike headquarters it is declared more than 400 men walked out, practically the entire force. The walkout was without disorder.

Lisbon, Oct. 7.—It is reported here early this morning that the monarchists at Vinhaes, 14 miles west of Braganza, have surrounded and cut off the retreat of the Republican troops in that vicinity.

HITCHCOCK FOR NEW FEATURES

Parcels Post and Aero Route Provided For in Annual Estimates of the Postmaster General — Rural Mail Routes

Washington, October 6.— Provision for the establishment of a parcels post and the transportation of mail by aeroplane has been made by Postmaster General Hitchcock in the annual estimates of Postoffice Department expenditures, submitted to the Treasury Department today.

According to Mr. Hitchcock's estimates the appropriations necessary to meet the xpenses of the postal service at large during the coming fiscal year will be $260,938,463, an increase of $2,585,740 over the appropriations for the current fiscal year, or less than one per cent., the smallest on record.

The most important of the new items in the estimates are those providing for the parcel post. They include $50,000 to cover the preliminary expenses on rural and mail routes and an equal appropriation to start the service in the cities. The Department believes that after the initial expensese of establishment are defrayed and the parcel post is in full operation on the rural routes, it will not only bring in sufficient revenue to meet its cost, but also a surplus that can be utilized in paying the parcel post expenses in the city delivery service. An additional item of $50,000 is included to cover an investigation having for its object the final establishment of a general parcel post on all railway and steamboat transportation routes.

Thus Mr. Hitchcock will submit the parcel post question squarely to Congress, for the postal committees of the House and Senate will have to pass directly on each item. He is confident that legislation authorizing a parcel post in some form will be secured at the coming session of Congress.

Another item included for the first time is the $50,000 to cover experiments in the transportation of mail by aeroplane. Mr. Hitchcock believes that under certain conditions, it will be possible in the near future to utilize the earoplane to good advantage in the mail service. The sum of $50,000 is provided for time and labor-saving mechanical devices for use in the postoffices. An item of $10,000 is added to be expended in giving rewards to postal employes who invent improved mechanical appliances that accelerate the handling of the mails.

MILLIONS FOR SEA FIGHTERS.

Fabulous Sum of $129,000,000 to Support Navy This Year.

Washington, Oct. 6.—It will cost in round numbers $129,000,000 to maintain the United States navy and provide for suitable increase during the next fiscal year, according to the estimates just completed by Secretary Meyer. This includes a provision for two super-dreadnoughts, probably of about the size of the projected Nevada and Oklahoma, which will displace about 28,000 tons, and a suitable number of auxiliaries.

This figure marks the low water in the retrenchment policy of the administration so far as the navy is concerned. The estimates are the same as the appropriations for the current fiscal year. These appropriations were $5,000,000 less than the estimates for the preceding year, and these in turn were $10,000,000 less than the estimates for the fiscal year 1908-1909, which was the last year of the Roosevelt administration. It is believed by Secretary Meyer that the present estimates, therefore, have brought the expenditures on account of the navy down to the lowest point consistent with its healthy development and maintenance.

SENATOR STEPHENSON

Wisconsin Man Under Fire Formerly Lived at Asheville, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., October 6.—Senator Isaac Stephenson, of Wisconsin, who is undergoing an investigation in connection with charges of bribery and corrupt use of money in his election to the United States Senate, which is now being held at Milwaukee, formerly spent some time in Asheville. His son who came here with his wife and two children for their health, lived for about a year in Galax cottage, in Albemarle Park, during the latter part of 1909, and the early part of 1910, and his father visited him frequently. Senator Stephenson is said to be the richest man in the Senate and it is charged that he spent over $100,000 in his election.

He is an old man and while here, according to those who saw him, he was very quiet and reserved as befitted a man of such great wealth and did not talk much, at least not to casual acquaintances.

Officials of Sonora have decided to raise the taxes against the Chinese to such a figure that they can not pay them and thus compel them to move out.

Two merchants moved from Augua Prieta today and they stated that others soon would follow.

New Haven, Conn., October 6.—For excellence in the entrance examinations in Latin and Greek at Yale, DuBose Murphy, of Montgomery, Ala., a member of the Academic freshman class, has been awarded both the Samuel Henry Galpin Latin prize and the Hugh Chamberlain Greek prizes. TURKEY APPEALS TO CIVILIZATION

Denounces Italy's Declaration of War as Unjustifiable Brigandage.

STRONG APPEAL TO ENGLAND

Italy Recalls Part of Her Fleet for Disobeying Orders—Propose to Capture Turkish Navy Without Damaging It.

Constantinople, October 6.—At a meeting today in the mosque of St. Sophia, a telegram of protest against Italy's declaration of war on Turkey was formulated and sent to eleven parliaments of the world peace and arbitration societies, university, socialist organizations and The Hague Peace Tribunal. The telegram says the occupation of Tripoli is unjustified and that Italy is unworthy of a place among the great powers. It asks whether Western civilzation has considered the effect upon the Eastern mind of Italy's brigandage.

The meeting also sent the following message to King George of England:

"How can a power like England, ruling between eighty and ninety millions of Moslems, regard with complaisant silence the declaration of war against the Ottoman nation and the blockade of Tripoli? Is such policy in harmony with the present and future interests of England?"

Hope to Capture Turkish Navy

Rome, October 6., via Frontier.—Rear Admiral Borea d'Olmo, who has been appointed Italian governor of Tripoli, is a distinguished naval officer and son of the master of ceremonies at his Majesty's court. He commanded the cruiser Elba which participated in the blockade of Venezuela and witnessed the battle off Chemulpo during the Russo-Japanese war when he rescued 200 Russian sailors after their cruiser Variag was destroyed.

Captain Umberto Cagni, who was made commandant of the landing parties, is president of the international Polar Commission and was a companion of the Duke of The Abruzzi on the latter's Alaskan and North Pole expedition.

The intention of the Italian government to avoid further incidents on the Albion coast, was frustrated, either because Captain Biscaretti, in command of a section of the torpedo boat flotilla, had not received the instructions on this point, or being provoked by the assumed responsibility of the Turks for his action, to avoid repetition of such an occurrence the admiralty office has recalled all the ships cruising along the Albanian coast.

It is understood that Rear Admiral Aubrey is maneuvering in the Aegean sea intending to place warships so that he can capture without destroying the whole Turkish fleet if it emerges from its hiding place.

Turkey Explains Her Position.

Washington, Oct. 6.—The State Department received today from Youssouf Zia Pasha, the Turkish ambassador to the United States, the first formal note of explanation of Turkey's attitude in the existing struggle with Italy. The note reviewed the action of Italy, setting forth that the war had been proclaimed without regard to Turkey's request for further explanation of Italy's demands.

Accompanying the aide "memoir" addressed to the American government, was a letter from the ambassador, making it clear that Turkey desired to be set right on the charge that she had not given due weight to Italy's final 24-hour ultimatum.

PRINTERS' CONGRESS

Richmond, Va., October 6.—The first Printers' Congress ever held in Virginia as a meeting of a State organization opened here today, with the following temporary officers who are likely to be retained permanently in their positions: President, E. L. Stone, Roanoke; vice presidents, D. G. Whitehead, Richmond; T. W. Preston, Bristol; secretary and treasurer, C. A. Zinke, Richmond.

The object of the Congress was stated by President Stone as in line with national movement to get the printing business down to a system whereby the cost of production in all lines may be known to the proprietors of plants for the mutual advantages of members of the organization.

CONSTABLE WAS "EASY."

While the Officer Slept, Prisoner Stole Gun and Money.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 6.—Constable H. K. Stratton, of Washington county, Ark., arrested Jesse Wilson here, to return him to Arkansas to answer a larceny charge. Wilson begged Stratton to be a "good fellow" and stick around for a day or two for a good time.

Stratton consented. The men became great chums. Wilson borrowed $5 from the constable. At the end of the day's fun they went to bed in the same room. While Stratton slept Wilson took the constable's gun all his money, then slipped through a rear window. Constable Stratton asked the police to help him find his quondam prisoner today.

SPORTING NEWS

THE LAST GREAT GAME TODAY

To Break the Tie and Decide Holder of Eastern Carolina Championship—Both Teams Materially Strengthened.

This morning at 9:45, Manager R. P. Holt and Capt. "Dutch" Tracy will descend upon Wilmington from the North with a band of husky warriors fit for conflict and determined to carry back to Rocky Mount the amateur baseball championship of Eastern Carolina. The personnel of the invading host will be nearly the same as appeared at the ball park two weeks ago and played such a good game in the rain and mud against the local champions.

With a selection between Jordan and August at the receiving end of the battery work and between J. Cuthrell, Griffin, Darden and Gravely for slab artists the Coast Line sluggers will find an aggravating assortment of teasers put across for them to unravel. Cuthrell held the locals to one hit in the last game on the home diamond; Griffin has been known to local fans for his work in the defunct Eastern Carolina League; Darden has great class for a variety of benders, spitters and fast ones, and Gravely spent the past season sporting around the diamonds of the Atlantic Coast League—some class!

Opposed to this alarming array of battery material will be "Pomp" Green, LeMoyne and Duls, all of whom have been polishing their arms to perfect condition during the past week and any one of whom is ready and able to uphold Wilmington's hopes. Starritt will do the receiving in his well known style, and 'tis a saying among the fans that there is none better.

Joyner at first, "Dutch" Tracy at second, W. Cuthrell at third and Whitaker on short, for the visitors form a fast and almost impregnable infield through which it will be difficult to drive safe ones, while Hardiman, Thurman and either Gardner or Page will furnish the outer gardens and will endeavor to draw in the long ones, the high ones and the Texas Leaguers.

The Coast Line will present the same old reliable bunch on the infield, with Charlie Terry looking after the territory around the initial sack, "Skeet" Emerson holding down the second cushion, Bobby Houston guarding the far corner, and Charlie "Hookworm" Taylor covering short. The outfield will be selected from Hugh Hines, "Pig" Orrell, "Whitey" Duls, Jim Bergen and Symmes. That array of defendants should lead the Wilmington Bull into Winter quarters with a quiet and peaceful mind.

"Pomp" Green will probably open the play with Duls and LeMoyne ready to step in to his assistance in case of distress. Each player is anxious for the hour of conflict to arrive as they feel that the team is in better condition than at any previous time this season, and realizing the strenuous nature of the conflict ahead of them they are going to enter it with the determination of retaining the coveted title in the metropolis of the Cape Fear.

The game will be called promptly at 3:45 this afternoon in order to allow plenty of time to finish before the early twilight envelops the field in semi-darkness. At the advertised prices the stands should be filled with spectators of this, the last game of the 1911 season, and some overflow should be compelled to seek their point of view on the bleachers. Ladies will be admitted free to the grandstand and the general admission will be only one quarter with a dime for the covered stand for gentlemen. Children will be charged 15 cents.

Manager Skelding has guaranteed a ten-minute service to and from the park and the weather man has promised clear skies and a balmy day, so no loyal fan need hesitate for fear of lack of accommodation or inclement weather.

As stated in yesterday morning's Star, Bert Kite, than whom no more popular player ever graced a Wilmington uniform, will handle the indicator and his presence will assure satisfaction to all concerned in that difficult and important department of the game. Without doubt the last game of the season will be worth seeing, as both teams are keyed up to their best efforts in their anxiety to bear away the title.

WORLD'S SUPPLY OF COTTON.

Into Sight Movement as Secretary Hester Reports It.

New Orleans, Oct. 6.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton issued today shows the total visible to be 2,485,561 bales against 2,218,783 last week and 2,147,741 last year. Of this the total of American cotton is 1,933,561 against 1,581,783 last week and 1,578,741 last year, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 552,000 against 637,000 last week and 569, last year.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,317,000 against 1,190,000 last year; in Egypt 43,000 against 73,000 last year; in India 286,000 against 270,000 last year; and in the United States 84,000 against 615,000 last year.

Averts Awful Tragedy.

Timely advice given Mrs. C. Willoughby, of Marengo, Wis., (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote, "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

New York, Oct. 6.—Although the New York Nationals have already hauled the 1911 pennant out of the reach of other aspirants, the flag winners continued their habit of winning today by taking a double-header from Philadelphia. The scores were 10 to 5, and 5 to 4. In the first game "Toots" Schultz, the former Pennsylvania captain, allowed only one scratch hit in the first six innings, then he went to pieces. In the seventh and eighth innings New York scored nine runs off him. Chalmers' weakness in the first inning of the second game proved his undoing as New York scored four runs at the start. Paskert made a marvelous one-hand catch of Devore's line drive in the first game.

The visitors bunched three hits in the fourth inning for their solitary run. The home team took the second by 13 to 3. It was a close tussle up to the seventh when Young was found for eight hits and as many runs.

BANQUET TO BALL PLAYERS

Members of City League Baseball Teams Entertained Most Pleasantly at Y. M. C. A. Parlors Last Night.

The parlors of the Y. M. C. A. last night were the scene of a most enjoyable and thoroughly delightful social affair when the Association tendered a banquet to the members of the teams that constituted the City Amateur Baseball League during the past season, nearly all of whom were present and enjoyed the pleasurable evening.

In addition to the delightful banquet served, there were a number of other interesting features on the programme, including a song by Miss Lucile Reilly, an address of welcome by General Secretary J. B. Huntington, an address by Rev. John C. Wooten, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, a violin solo by Mr. Frank McCravy and the presentation of the Tidewater Power Company's trophy cup to the champion Atlantic Coast Line team, by Colonel Walker Taylor.

The banquet hall was prettily decorated with flags and bunting and at one end, on the wall, were arranged several bats, a catcher's mask, mitts and other baseball paraphernalia, suggestive of the significance of the occasion. About 40 members of the teams were present.

Rev. J. C. Wooten pronounced the opening blessing and this was followed by a song, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," in which everybody joined.

Secretaary James B. Huntington, in a short but happily-worded welcome, made the guests feel at home and told of the purposes of the banquet.

He was followed by Miss Lucile Reilly, who rendered several vocal selections in a most pleasing manner. Miss Reilly was warmly applauded and most charmingly responded with an encore.

Taking for his subject, "Athletics and the Church," Rev. Mr. Wooten delivered a most pleasing and inspiring address. He touched on the different phases of athletics and their relations to a man's character. The effect of athletics, and especially baseball, had much to do with the formation and development of a young man's character, he said, in speaking of the high standard of sportsmanlike spirit which characterizes the National game. Mr. Wooten's remarks were listened to with the closest attention and he was frequently interrupted by bursts of applause.

Mr. Frank McCravy rendered a beautiful violin solo which added much to the pleasure of the evening and for which he was roundly encored.

Col. Taylor, "the young man's friend," then presented to the A. C. L. team, the champions for the season just ended, the handsome silver trophy given by the Tidewater Power Company. Col. Taylor was at his best, as he always is when talking to young men. He referred to the games he had witnessed in the North and to the sportsmanlike spirit exhibited by the professional players. He referred to a number of the men, including Tyrus Cobb and Hughie Jennings, of the Detroit Americans, and to their commendable and sportsmanlike conduct even in the contests in which there is the keenest rivalry.

Mr. R. W. Starritt, the manager of the victorious team, accepted the cup for the A. C. L. boys, in a few well chosen words. He was followed by Mr. Chas. Dushan, who spoke on the success of the teams and the prospects for baseball next year. He spoke in the highest terms of the spirit displayed by the different teams throughout the season.

All the managers and captains of the teams made short talks on the past season and the prospects for baseball another year.

On the menu for the banquet were salad, sandwiches, olives, pickles, saltines, coffee, cake and ice cream. The refreshments were delightful and were by no means the least enjoyable feature of the pleasant evening. The place cards were decorated with original pen-and-ink drawings and were very appropriate to the occasion.

It was 11 o'clock before the meeting finally adjourned and the guests departed after thanking Secretary Huntington and his associates for the delightful evening which their thoughtfulness had made possible.

WORLD'S BALL CHAMPIONSHIP.

Rush for Seats—Sixty Thousands People Can be Accommodated.

New York, Oct. 6.—Within 24 hours after the announcement yesterday of the schedule of games for the 1911 world's baseball championship, applications for seats came in in such numbers that the officials of the New York Baseball Club were literally flooded with check-laden missives tonight. The demand was so overwhelming that extra clerks were engaged to attack the mountain of mail. The applications were too numerous to count tonight, but they ran up into many thousands.

In addition, hundreds of local fans, believing they could thus get in on the ground floor, went to the offices only to find that no tickets would be issued until the advance sale begins Thursday.

The clerks bundled the letters in packages of a hundred, stamped according to the time of receipt, to be sure that the early applicants are taken care of first.

At the polo grounds here, where the first game will be called a week from tomorrow, preparations are nearly complete to take care of a crowd of nearly 60,000 persons.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 6.—Mr. James A. Slater, aged 80, died suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. T. Carter, early today. He was a native of Salisbury, was married in New York and conducted a mercantile business in that city several years. When he retired last night he complained of suffering from indigestion.

GREENSBORO'S Y. M. C. A.

Will Soon Be Ready—Founder's Day at Normal.

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 6.—Greensboro's Y. M. C. A. building will be completed by Saturday night of next week and turned over to the board of directors by the contractor. Immediately the rooms will be furnished and the building thrown open to the public. A campaign for members will be inaugurated and the work of the association started in full blast the first of November. All of the association officers are on the ground. The general secretary is Mr. L. H. Martin; the boys' secretary, Mr. E. H. Yergin, and physical director, Mr. Fred Crawford. The building is modern in equipment, having bowling alleys, reading room, boys' room, lockers, shower, tub and pool baths, a splendidly equipped gymnasium and 34 dormitories.

Founders' Day exercises at the State Normal and Industrial College closed last night with a students' meeting in the college chapel, at which addresses were made by representatives of nearly every class that has graduated from the institution. Just nineteen years ago yesterday the college was first opened to the young women of the State. The address of Mr. Clarence H. Poe has been very favorably commented upon by those who were fortunate enough to hear it. Mr. Poe gave some statistics that he had recently obtained showing that the average school term in North Carolina is only 101 days, whereas the average in the United States is 155 days. Ten years ago the average length of the school term in the State was only 70 days, showing that a 50 per cent. increase has been made in ten years.

WITNESS BIRTH OF ISLANDS

Captain and Crew of Elvira See New Land After Big Burst of Vapor

San Francisco, October 6.—Fred Schroeder, captain of the four-hundred-ton schooner Elvira, has brought a marvelous story from Arctic waters.

As his vessel neared Bosgoslav, he said, a burst of vapor rose above the island, dust rained on the sea and as the vapor cleared, new land was in sight.

"When it cooled off," said Schroeder, "there were four new islands. We could see them directly but they quivered in such a strange way that we did not attempt to approach them."

Soda crackers are extremely sensitive to moisture.

Before the advent of Uneeda Biscuit the only persons who ever tasted fresh, crisp soda crackers were the people in the bakeries.

Imagine their trip from bakery to your table; exposed to air and moisture—kept in grocers' boxes and finally in a paper bag on the shelf in your pantry. Could they be the same as they were the day they were baked?

Now that we have Uneeda Biscuit—we have perfectly baked soda crackers—perfectly kept.

No moisture can reach them—no contaminating influences can affect their flavor—their goodness is imprisoned only to be liberated by you for you when you open the package.

Always in the moisture proof package. Never sold in bulk. 5 cents a package.

STATE FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Will be Generally Observed on Tuesday—Two Pardons Granted—Insurance Agents Meet. Funeral of W. E. Faison.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 6.—Governor Kitchin grants a pardon to Harvey Nester, who has served two years of a five years' sentence to the penitentiary for manslaughter in Surry county. The man killed provoked the difficulty and pursued the prisoner with an open knife. On his deathbed the deceased declared that the fatal fight was his fault and that he did not want the prisoner punished. The trial judge, the solicitor and many citizens recommend clemency.

Another pardon is to Frank Demerry, Robeson county, who has served nearly three years of a four years' sentence to the roads for abduction. This pardon is at the request of the trial judge, the solicitor, prosecuting attorneys, the prosecutrix and her father, along with many citizens, the punishment already endured and development of facts since the trial. Both pardons are conditioned on good behavior.

A high degree of interest Commissioner Young says is being manifested the State over in the proposed Fire Prevention Day observance October 9th, designed to procure close attention by property owners to the clearing away of conditions that might tend to make more liable fires that would be destructive of property. Mayors, chiefs of fire departments, officers of Women's Clubs and other officials in towns all over the State are becoming fully alive to the need there is for such concerted precaution. In numbers of places arrangements are being made for public meetings at which these things will be discussed and concerted action on the part of the property owning citizenship secured.

A charter is issued for the Madison Light & Power Co., of Marshall, Madison county, capital $10,000 by J. H. White and others.

There was a hearing today before the State Commissioner of Insurance, James R. Young, in which a number of agents of industrial insurance companies are making counter charges of unjust criticisms of competing companies, or their agents. Most of the agents involved in the hearing are Raleigh men, but Commissioner Young says the same conditions extend to many parts of the State and that the prospect is that there will be some good to come of the agitation.

Three fine live bear cubs, about six months old, have been received at the State museum and will be kept alive until their fur is at its best for the Winter and then killed, so that they can be mounted and used in connection with a series of cases showing native animal and bird life in Eastern Carolina swamps.

Prof. L. C. Brogden, supervisor of the rural school division of the State department of education, has just issued a pamphlet on the consolidation of schools and the free transportation of children, treating the problem in the light of extensive observations of the working of this plan in other States and the North Carolina conditions which he represents to be very well adapted to this innovation in many sections. He spent several months in Virginia observing this system which is being used in several sections of the Old Dominion with fine results. There is special stress on the fact that the last Legislature empowered the county boards of education in North Carolina to provide for this free transportation out of the district school funds wherever deemed desirable.

There has just been posted in the Seaboard Air Line shops here a notice of a cut in time for machinists that amounts to a 25 per cent. reduction in wages. They get 38 cents per hour and have been working 60 hours per week and the cut is to 45 hours.

The altar for the new Church of the Good Shepherd (Episcopal), together with the entire marble finishing for the new sanctuary, arrived today from Italy, being of the finest Italian marble. The reredos of this consists of a fine carving of the Last Supper in bold relief. The equipment is said to be among the finest marble work ever shipped to this country. The church is now ready for the tile roof, which has been shipped. The church is of granite and is especially handsome.

At 11 o'clock this morning there was the funeral of W. E. Faison, widely known secret order man of this city. It was held from the First Baptist church, of which he was a member, and to which he left a legacy of $500. The pall-bearers were all selected from among the secret orders of which he was a member—Masons, Odd Fellows, Junior Order United American Mechanics, Knights of Pythias and Red Men. A number of close personal friends and the presiding officers of each of the local lodges of which he was a member, constituted the honorary pall-bearers.

Forty-seven ten-pound boxes of manufactured tobacco branded by Brown & Williamson Co., Winston-Salem, were found today hidden in the Morris Livery stable. It had been stolen Monday from a freight car on the Southern yards. The crime was fixed on Walter Johnson, a negro, who was bound over to Superior Court. He used a team owned by Morris. He claims to know nothing of the presence of tobacco in his stable.

THE CRAWFORD CASE.

Special Session of Grand Jury to Convene at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 6.—According to an announcement by District Attorney Adams, a special session of the grand jury will convene Monday next to take up the case of Annie Crawford, charged with the poisoning of her sister, Elsie Crawford.

Although not definitely learned, it is believed that City Chemist Metz has submitted to the prosecutor his report concerning the examination of the organs removed from the body of the dead girl. This report will have an important bearing on the case as by the amount of poison found in the body may be determined whether Annie Crawford spoke the truth when she confessed that she had given her sister only one and a half grains of morphine, mistaking it for calomel.

STEALING FROM RAILROAD

Negroes Given Trial at Whiteville—The Cotton Crop—Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, October 6.—For some months past a systematic raid has been made on the Whiteville depot of the Coast Line Railway and many goods stolen. In fact, it is said that the loss at this depot exceeds any on the line of road, except Wilmington. Capt. Barkley, the agent, has often to leave the depot to go to the Whiteville Lumber Company's siding to check cars, and other places in town to look after the business of the road. It seems that thieves took advantage of his absence to carry off goods from the depot, and which they sold to outsiders at half price or less. One white merchant of Vineland stated that he bought from one of the negroes a case of shoes for $2 per pair which sold for $4.50. It is not known how long this stealing has been going on or the amount of goods taken. On the 14th of last July, Marshal D. M. Thompson, of Whiteville, set to work to discover the parties who had stolen a bag of meat from the depot. He found that a negro, named Richard Burroughs, was inmplicated in the theft, and got out a warrant for his arrest; but Burroughs evidently heard of the warrant and ran off. A description of the negro was sent abroad, and on last Tuesday a railroad detective in Wilmington found Burroughs and arrested him. Marshal Thompson went after his prisoner, when Burroughs confessed to the theft and said he would tell the names of others implicated with him in robbing the depot. He said one of the parties was a negro named J. C. Whitaker, in the employ of the road, and who had also been stealing. On this information Whitaker was yesterday arrested, and both he and Burroughs tried before Magistrate Bruce Pierce. They were bound over in $100 bond each. Other parties are implicated and will be arrested soon. It is hoped that this gang of thieves has been broken up.

A letter was yesterday received in Whiteville from a reliable party who had recently traveled over Texas and Mississippi States. He says there is no question but that the cotton crop will be short. He says while certain parts of Texas show a slight increase in yield over last year, other sections of the State have been ravaged by the boll weevil and the crop will be very short. He does not think Texas, as a State, will produce as much cotton as last year. He says in Oklahoma crops are almost a failure and many farmers are sacrificing their property and moving away. Besides the weevil, other insect pests are destroying foliage and even grown bolls. In parts of Mississippi farmers will only gather a few early bolls. There is everywhere complaints of scarcity of hands, and a great deal of cotton will rot in the field for lack of pickers. This gentleman says the predictions of a record-breaking cotton crop being made this year is misleading for he does not believe it will much, if any, exceed last year's crop.

The Evangelistic meeting now in progress at the Baptist church in Whiteville, conducted by Rev. Chas. C. Smith, the pastor, is well attended and much good is being accomplished. Mr. Smith was assisted by Rev. T. W. O'Kelley, D. D., of Raleigh, and Prof. H. Wormsley, of Wilmington, conducts the singing. It is to be regretted that Mr. O'Kelley had yesterday to leave, as a prominent member of his church died and he was called home on that account. The meeting will be continued during the week. Prof. Wormsley has charge in the afternoon and Mr. Smith conducts the services at night.

WAKE FOREST AND U. N. C.

Great Game Expected Today at Chapel Hill—Athletics.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, N. C., Oct. 6.—"All off for Carolina," is now the cry heard everywhere these last days of the week at Wake Forest, for on Saturday the first college football game of the season will be played at Chapel Hill between Wake Forest and the University. Last Saturday the opening game was played here with Warrenton, which resulted in Wake Forest winning 61 to 0. So well did the men show up, and since that game three of the best football players in the Carolinas have donned the "Gold and Black," that Wake Forest can hardly help but believe that the game Saturday will be theirs.

A special train will be run from Raleigh and several hundred from Wake Forest are expected to go. A great band of "rooters" has been organized for the occasion and nothing in the way of enthusiasm will be lacking. Of course, it is known that Carolina will put up a vigorous fight for the honors, but Wake Forest will be there with the goods.

Just who will play in the game no one yet knows. Hard luck, as well as good luck, has played an important part this week. Several of the best and fastest back field men have been laid up. One has been forced to go home for a few days and now it is not known whether or not he has regained his strength sufficiently.

Every afternoon Coach Thompson has had scrimmages between two elevens. The two new men, both of last year's A. & M. team, are showing up splendidly. They are Gattis and Dunn. Gattis is a heavy-weight and very fast. He may be used in the back field. Dunn is also good, and wherever he plays he will get his man. Phil Utley, the pride of Wake Forest, will play in the Carolina game in all probability. He did not play in the Warrenton game. Utley is the fastest man in college, and when he gets into any game and especially football, he plays for all there is in it. Utley will be of invaluable service. Capt. Betts also is a star. He played quarter in the Warrenton game on account of the sickness of Faucette. H. Betts plays, regularly, and end but wherever he is put he is good. Joyner also is a very fast man and will probably play an end. B. Holding, a line man, is a good line man and is one of the best men in "bucking the line." There are others. They will play their hardest and whoever comes off with the victory it can be said that Wake Forest played hard.

The scrubs will play Raleigh High School Saturday and there, too, is an interesting race. For this year there are many men on the scrubs who will try for the 'Varsity next year and their work is watched with no little interest.

E. W. Smith was elected manager of the tennis team and he says that Wake Forest tennis prospects are bright.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

A COMMON COLD neglected may go quickly into CROUP, BRONCHITIS, or PNEUMONIA which often means a sudden fatality. Keep FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND always in the house and give at first sign of a cold. Refuse substitutes.

John Parsons, Stewart, Ohio, writes: "We use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as our best and only cough remedy. It never fails to cure any of my seven children of cough. My 2-months' old baby has had a most severe cough, which our Doctor said he could not cure, and that Baby would surely die. Several of our relations and neighbors had gathered to witness the ending of the child's life. Two bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured the child and he is alive and well today. Robert R. Saturday, October 7, 1911.

The Greensboro News tells us to "raise hogs". That's all right, but suppose they "call" you.

John Armstrong Chaloner declares that he is "one of two true prophets." This makes it safe to bet on Col. Roosevelt as the other.

In all probability, Turkey wishes all those European nations would sign up a peace pact before they get to looking around for more territory.

Senator Simmons visited Charlotte on Thursday. It might be presumed that he dropped in to help the Queen City folks "Watch Charlotte Grow."

Some people are disposed to hold the Democratic party responsible for what some Democrats do and say. It is not right to look on a Democrat or so as a whole National convention.

The New York World deprecates: "Taft's fatal loquacity." It ought to worry his friends more than it does his opponents. For campaign purposes, loquacity is equal to writing a book.

Says the Charleston Post: "A female safe blower has been discovered by the authorities. She probably started on her career by robbing hubby's pockets." And probaby by "blowing up" the old man occasionally.

An Ohio man has been sent to the workhouse for 90 days for hitching his wife to a plow and beating her because she refused to "g'lang." It's good for him, and he may as well make up his mind that he has to dig for a living and no longer depend on the plow.

In a speech at Detroit, Mr. George W. Perkins objected to the Sherman act because it "was passed by Congress without the people's having had an opportunity to vote on it." Mr. Perkins is a Republican who has broadly hinted that a National referendum is safer than Congress.

Senator Stephenson, of Wisconsin, acknoledges that it cost him $107,793 to be elected Senator, but declares that he has no knowledge that any of it was wrongfully spent by those to whom he entrusted the funds. Well, it seems that he didn't purchase the Senatorship. His friends bought it and he only paid for it.

The League of American municipalities is holding a great convention in Atlanta, and it is attended by the mayors of hundreds of American cities. Doubtless, those from cities which have adopted the recall, are not enjoying themselves as fully as those mayors who don't have to be looking for trouble every time they hear from home.

Since Secretary Ballinger has retired from the cabinet, he has expressed enough loose conservation views to have fully justified the general belief that the country's real estate was not safe in his hands. In fact, he finally has given himself away. So has President Taft in declaring on his Western tour that he is a reactionist. His acts, however, had previously given him away.

Says the Norfolk Landmark: "In a case like this, what is a poor man to do? In Trenton, made famous as the temporary abode of Woodrow Wilson, there is a young man who is between the horns of a dilemma and the horns are very sharp. If he should cease paying attentions to a certain girl, she has promised to shoot him; if he continues to visit her he will be killed by her parents." Most fellows would get cold feet, get a new home in North Carolina and then write back for the girl.

WHERE TAFT LOSES.

It makes no difference how greatly the people of this country esteem President Taft and approve those smiles, they are not going to vote burdensome tariff taxes on themselves under the idea they can "laugh and grow fat" while the Republican party is gouging into their pockets for protection contributions in order to carry out its actual guarantee of profits to its special interests. In re-affirming his allegiance to the 1908 Republican platform pledge to its tariff beneficiaries, guaranteeing them a profit, is where President Taft will lose in 1912. That is exactly what the people repudiated in the 1910 election, and which they will again repudiate in the Presidential election next year.

The whole truth is, the people want to let their earnings stay in their own pockets instead of being yanked out by Republican policies to enrich the stuffed prophets of protection. If you were to guarantee us the privilege of taxing all the people to carry out a guarantee of profit for our factory, we could do a thriving business in the manufacture of pigments for retinting the rainbow. A flourishing business might be done in the manufacture of material for building air castles, if people would stand hitched while you were taking something out of their hard earnings for the special interests who build castles in the air. Of course, it would be a capital thing for us, but upon that proposition a North Carolina voter would rather have the common sense kicked out of him by the Democratic animule than to have the dough squeezed out of him by the G. O. P. elephant.

We fancy the people out West and all over the country are talking about the same view of it as a Tar Heel voter who has waked up in time to kick while his pockets are being emptied for those special interest profits. They are tired of the pachyderm push, and don't mind working for themselves and their own families, but they have resolved and determined upon serious opposition to the Republican policy that taxes them as so many serfs working for the trusts whose galls haven't even been busted.

The people like the affable Taft and they wish him mighty well doing something else besides being President. No wonder these people here in North Carolina and in the Middle West have gotten to the point where the erudite and statesmanlike Woodrow Wilson looks powerfully good to the man who is tired having the "profit" game played at the average man's expense. Wilson talks the language of the people, and that is where he is getting next to them. Taft smiles the right kind of smiles, but he talks too far off from the main question under discussion. The question under discussion is how to use the ballot box in order to secure relief from the tariff gougers and the profit squad. A thorough analysis of the situation will bring about a solution that will cook the goose of any candidate who is on a cold trail and barking up the wrong tree.

We have been glancing over President Taft's 13,000-mile speeches and the crux of them is the great utility of the Tariff Board for plugging big veto holes in the sinking ship of Republicanism. Now and then, when it is necessary to row through the enemy's country with muffled oars, there is a dilation upon the beauties of eliminating bombshellism from among so-called civilized nations. Of course, that relieves the tension that the Hon. D. Fool Fisher didn't know was liable to break the live wires of the insurgent circuit, but, anyhow, the peace treaty feature is all right as a headlight when the train is running through a dangerous country.

However, the thing that worries us about the President's spiel swing, is that in his heart-to-heart talk with the stand-pat politicians, September 22nd, he defended his vetoes of tariff revision bills and declared he was "as much under obligations to veto them as if he had said when he was on the platform running for the Presidency, that he would veto just those bills for the reason that the whole Republican party had taken the position that it was necessary to maintain the industries of this country by protection." Again, at Ottumwa, Iowa, September 29, he emerged on the stand-pat platform and pointedly declared: "I am no free trader. I am a protectionist, pledged to the policy of a protective tariff."

You can talk about the Fisher flash in the pan if you will, but when the President went back to a repudiated platform and socked his foot in it by unmasking as the knight of the stand-patters, it surely ought to make it unanimous for Wilson—or, anybody but Taft. The people have had enough of the kind of "profits" guaranteed by the Republican party and again pledged by the President in his campaign for the Republican nomination next year.

THE CHARLOTTE OBSERVER.

Both startling and interesting was the Associated Press announcement that, on the 1st of November, the Charlotte Observer Company is to undergo a re-organization. The Observer yesterday follows up the telegraphic news with a fuller announcement, from which we take the following:

"On November 1, The Observer Company is to undergo a re-organization. On that date Maj. James C. Hemphill is to become the editor of The Observer and Mr. A. E. Gonzales is to assume the office of publisher and managing director. Both of these gentlemen become stockholders in the company. Two other new stockholders will be Mr. George Stephens and Mr. Word H. Wood. Mr. D. A. Tompkins will not only retain stock in the company but the paper will continue to have the benefit of his long experience with it. Major Hemphill is one of the ablest editors in the South, having won renown as editor of the Charleston News and Courier, on which paper he spent twenty years of his journalistic career. For two years past he has been editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch. Mr. Gonzales has built up the Columbia State, one of the most successful and influential newspaper properties in the South."

The announcement goes on to say that "under the re-organization plan, the Observer will be immeasurably strengthened and will spread out for even better and greater things as the State's finest daily paper." Evidently something like that is meant, for not only is there a re-organization of the stockholders, but along with it a change in the editorial staff and management. While the present and past auspices under which the Observer has been published have been of a constructive and notable character, we are constrained to believe that the re-organization and strengthening of the paper simply means more progress for a paper that has witnessed nothing but progress from the day that it fell into the hands of the distinguished Joseph P. Caldwell.

From first to last the management of the paper has been strong and it has always gathered about it an editorial staff that furnished the ability for every forward movement towards a greater Observer. The paper has grown because it had capital behind it and for the reason that newspaper makers of fine capacity have been in charge of its destinies. Newspapers, like the strengthening of other enterprises, have to keep on building to meet the demands of the times, and in such rapidly and substantially growing cities as Charlotte we need not expect anything else than the placing of a new army of workers in the field to meet the exigencies of a constantly broadening sphere of opportunities and usefulness.

North Carolina is to be congratulated that Major Hemphill is to become a Tar Heel editor. We are glad he has been captured and added to North Carolina's great and growing list of acquisitions. The Major is one of the South's ablest and best equipped editors. He is a strong and scholarly wirter, and to a high order of talent there are added years of wisdom and long experience. He is a worthy successor of Editor Caldwell, who was the Ajax of North Carolina journalism, and who, as a newspaper founder and editor, was a tower of strength in the growing citadel of the North Carolina press. While Editor Caldwell had to bear the heat and burden of founding The Observer, Major Hemphill comes with the house well arranged for greater building.

One of the pillars in the organization will be Mr. A. E. Gonzales, one of the owners of the Columbia State, and one of three brothers who were born newspaper men. He is a brother of the lamented N. G. Gonzales, one of the South's most brilliant editors, and a brother of Editor W. E. Gonzales, of the Columbia State, one of the great editors of this country. Mr. A. E. Gonzales is a man of great force of character and intense energy, and everything moves when he is the motive power. Again is The Observer to be congratulated that his strong hand is to be added to those which are to push The Observer up to greater things.

While the new Observer is to have the strong backing and powerful influence of such men as Messrs. Stephens and Wood, there remains the veteran power behind the throne, the Hon. D. A. Tompkins, whose strong arm buoyed up the paper in the past and whose capital and brains are yet to be requisitioned for doing the bigger things that The Observer will do.

Charlotte has fallen to a good fortune in the new paper-making combination and North Carolina will share it with her.

TOWN MAKING VS. BOOSTING

Under the title of "Town Boosting" the Raleigh Times thus refers to the progressive city of Winston-Salem:

"There be various ways of boosting a town, but the best way to get results is to do something that will bring business to the community. Over at Winston-Salem they have been boosting for nearly fifty years—ever since Winston-Salem was a village and a corner lot sold for the price of a heifer. Three or four railroads were built from that town to other places — to Greensboro, Roanoke, Wilkesboro, Mocksville and finally to Wadesboro. Railroad building is a slow process in North Carolina; it requires too much capital. Now Winston-Salem proposes to connect with nearby towns by means of good roads. They have a genuine road engineer in Mr. Spoon and they pay him well to spend the county's money judiciously. A splendid road from Winston-Salem to Yadkinville is almost a certainty and there is agitation of a good road to Mocksville. Good roads to both these points will pay in dollars and cents. And that is the sort of boosting that makes a town grow."

Winston-Salem has set the whole State the pace in planning a good roads system and in employing a scientific and expert builder to lay it out and see that it is properly constructed. In doing that, the Twin-City has solved the problem of economy as well as set on foot a road-building scheme that comes next in importance to building railroads for the development of a country that has the resources to warrant it.

In stating that he spent $107,793 in his campaign for the United States Senatorship, but that he does not know what was done with the money placed in the hands of his friends, Senator Stephenson, of Wisconsin, demonstrates that he was the willing victim of leg pullers or the unconscious beneficiary of the manner in which the money was passed around. Probably he was perfectly willing to spend the money to afford his supporters a little fun during the campaign.

CURRENT COMMENT.

As an example of what German military airmen are already able to do the performance of Lieutenant Mackenthun on Monday is cited. In a space of thirty-five minutes Lieut. Machenthun, who was acting for the Red force, rose and flew along the enemy's front and was back on the ground at his headquarters ready to report. To obtain the same results would have taken a strong force of cavalry four hours.—London Telegraph.

The prospect is that in South Carolina seed for the cowpea crop of 1912 will be scarce next Spring, and there has not been a time in many a long year when the wisdom of planting a big pea crop was more apparent in advance. A short crop has been produced this year in this State, as elsewhere. In some sections the crop is almost a failure. The State has pointed out that the forage crop of the country on account of prolonged dry weather is unusually small, and the farmers may prepare themselves to pay high prices for provender and meat next year. Common sense should urge every farmer to harvest all the peas that he can and not to sell them now. Last Spring cowpeas fetched three dollars a bushel for seed and there is plenty of reason to prophesy that the price will be reached again when sowing time comes in 1912.—Columbia State.

The World has had occasion to express its fears that Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, might be proceeding too rapidly toward Bryanism and Populism in his obvious candidacy for the Presidency. We have found his panaceas of direct government dubious, to say the least; his treatment of the "money power" sensational. It is with the greater pleasure, therefore, that we congratulate him upon the first State conventions held under the Geary law, whose passage he secured. The Democratic Convention in particular, in which his own influence was dominant, presented the novelty of an open discussion of platform planks in the public hearing, of a brief and business-like session, of a small group of delegates and a platform of practical projects for the State, not words and buncombe. Especially must we commend Gov. Wilson for insisting that a resolution indorsing him for the Presidency be tabled. There will be plenty of time for that next year. His present duty is the administration of the government of New Jersey and the advocacy of needed local reforms.—New York World.

PLANS FOR GREAT BOULEVARD

Delegation of Citizens Again Appears Before Council in Interest of Big Public Improvement—Action Is Deferred

The City Council in special session yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, again gave an hour's consideration to the appeal of citizens with reference to the Macomber's ditch proposition and the plans now about to formulate for the conversion of this drain, extending north and south, in the eastern section of the city, into a great 100-foot boulevard with playgrounds for children and a place of recreation for the inhabitants of the city generally.

The question has several times before been presented to the Council, but perhaps never before in the concrete shape that it was yesterday afternoon. Chairman P. Q. Moore, of the Streets and Wharves Department, not only had a blue print of the proposed improvement with estimates as to the cost, etc., but the delegation of citizens, headed by Bishop Strange, of the East Carolina Diocese, was armed with assurances from abutting property owners that they would donate each 17 feet width of their property toward the opening of the boulevard and citizens would see that a block of property at either end of the improvement would be given for playground and park purposes, one for colored and another for white persons.

The only difficulty in the way of the improvement presented itself in the figures of cost as compiled by the city engineer, it being estimated that the drainage and piping alone will cost $61,900, which was regarded as excessive by some members of the Council. However, the Council was very favorable to the general plan of the improvement and a resolution was so adopted, but in deference to Chairman Tiencken, in charge of Finances and Accounts, definite action was postponed until a subsequent meeting, the engineer in the meanwhile to more carefully revise his figures and see just how economically the work can be done.

There were present at the meeting Mayor Smith presiding, Councilmen Wm. E. Perdew, P. Q. Moore, B. C. Moore, City Attorney Herbert McClammy, City Clerk and Treasurer Thos. D. Meares and the following citizens: Bishop Strange, Messrs. C. N. Evans, Hugh MacRae, R. H. Northrop, J. O. Carr, J. A. Taylor, George Rountree, Thos. H. Wright, Walker Taylor, Iredell Meares and Marsden Bellamy.

Bishop Strange opened the discussion of the matter in hand, explaining the offer made by the property owners as to donating front sections of their lots to contribute to the 100-foot boulevard, except in the cases of one or two owners who have built on the premises and would want some remuneration for a relinquishment of their property. This, however, would be easy of settlement. Bishop Strange pointed out that if the city would undertake the work along the broad and progressive lines proposed that he was in position to offer the block between Orange and Ann and 14th and 15th streets as a park for the colored people while the block between Princess and Chesnut and 13th and 14th streets would be set aside and improved for white people. He regarded the proposition one of the most important that had been presented to the Council and trusted that the scheme could be carried out.

Councilman P. Q. Moore presented a blue print of the proposed improvement and an estimate from the city engineer that $61,900 would be required for the excavation and drainage required. It is proposed to open the boulevard from Queen street to Oakdale street and close all streets possible to vehicles. Mr. Moore rather regarded these figures as prohibitive regarded these figures as prohibitive would very much like to see the improvement made.

Col. Taylor asked Mr. Moore, if the figures were regarded prohibitory, was it the idea of Council to leave this improvement alone in view of the condemnation of the ditch by practically every physician in the city and the enactment of the Legislature requiring the improvement to be done? He regarded that it is imperative that something should be done.

Mr. Hugh MacRae suggested that metal culverts might be used in the interest of economy and referred to the promising local industry that has recently been planted here.

Mr. J. A. Taylor said that nothing is prohibitory if necessary. If Wilmington is not big enough and resolute enough to cure an evil of this kind, then she won't grow and should not grow. The trend of city population was in that direction and that population must be looked after as respects health and sanitation. He submitted that the improvement would take care of itself in increased tax values to the city, even if the cost were as much as that estimated by the engineer. Laying merely a drain at a less cost than the extensive plan proposed would bring no immediate return, but by availing itself of the opportunity for greater improvements now offered, the city would be the gainer. While the city's bonded debt might not justify a further expenditure out of the fund, a floating debt for so important an improvement would be fully justified.

Iredell Meares, Esq., preached the doctrine of "doing something, making a broad gauge start" and said that he knew of no better way than beginning in the outskirts in a big way; it took nerve, but would pay in the long run. He favored the Macomber's ditch proposition heartily, as an object lesson in doing big things for the city.

Mr. Hugh MacRae referred to the variance of engineers' estimates on a big project and gave some experiences of his own as to construction work. Estimates were sometimes under and sometimes four times greater than the actual cost of construction. He favored taking hold of the proposition in hand and working it out to a successful conclusion on some sort of basis.

After some further discussion, the following resolution prepared by the City Attorney, was introduced by Councilman Perdew and unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this Council that Macomber's ditch should be piped with such piping as is necessary to drain the ditch and that the work upon the same would be begun at once but for lack of funds to complete the same, it being understood that the work will be begun and completed as soon as the funds are provided and that the idea of a boulevard suggested by the citizens for whose benefit this meeting was called, will be carried out in detail."

It was the general understanding that as soon as Councilman Tiencken returns to the city, the matter will again be taken up and carried to a conclusion. There being no further business before the meeting yesterday afternoon, adjournment was taken subject to call of the chairman.

OCT. 12TH UNIVERSITY DAY

Local Alumni of Carolina to Celebrate The Occasion

The local alumni of the University of North Carolina is making preparations to celebrate Universiay Day on October 12th and it is expected that the occasion will be a gala one with the Wilmington sons of Carolina. Louis Goodman, Esq., is chairman of the committe on arrangements and he is sending out a circular letter calling the attention of the local alumni to the celebration and inviting them to participate in it.

October 12th is University Day throughout the State and on that occasion the graduates of the institution meet and live over once more the days they spent at Chapel Hill and renew their interest in their Alma Mater.

The place and hour of meeting will be announced next week by Mr. Goodman. Following the meeting of the organization there will be a "smoker," on promises to be a delightful affair. It is expected that the attendance at the meeting will be large, including nearly all the men in the city.

AN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN.

To be Made for a "City Beautiful" This Season.

The Civic Department of Sorosis announces that it is the purpose of Sorosis to give prizes again next Spring for the most beautiful yards and for the best display of flowers from bulbs; for roses, ornamental vines, flowering and evergreen shrubs.

Some very important changes are contemplated for this year which will broaden the scope of the work and make the prizes of interest to many more contestants. In fact, it is hoped that everyone who has a yard, no matter hw small, will take an active interest. Instead of having the decision made on the first of June, it will probably be arranged so that the decision for each class of flowers will be made at the time when they are at their best.

Now is the time when everyone should begin to plan the work and place orders for the bulbs and plants necessary to make beautiful their homes and gardens.

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH

Historical Address Deliverd Upon Recent 20th Anniversary

Rev. E. C. Sell, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, has just had issued in attractive pamphlet form, a brief historical address recently delivered upon the occasion of the twentieth anniversary of the organization of the church. The pamphlet is neatly printed and is full of facts of interest to those who have watched the marvellous growth of Trinity Church, since its organization as Market Street Mission in May, 1891. Rev. Mr. Sell was the first pastor assigned to this charge in 1892 and by a happy coincidence, it was under his pastorate that the recent twentieth anniversary was arranged. The work is now in splendid condition and a credit to Methodism in the city and State. The pamphlet is being sold at a nominal price and the proceeds will be devoted to certain lines of church work.

Mr. Ramos Calls Meeting.

Mr. John S. Ramos respectfully asks that all public spirited citizens meet at the court house tonight at 8:30 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the project of sending Capt. Adolph Freitsch, the Lone Mariner, across the Atlantic ocean alone in a 40-foot boat carrying a bale of cotton from this port to the Liverpool Cotton Exchange the purpose of the proposition being to advertise Wilmington. The contract Mr. Ramos has with Captain Freitsch calls for $1,500 and unless the amount is raised tonight the contract does not hold good. Mr. Ramos hopes to have a large and representative attendance at the meeting tonight and declares that he does not believe that Wilmington can afford to overlook a scheme that would give her so much desirable publicity.

CONTRACT HAS BEEN AWARDED

Construction Work on New Marine Railway to be Started in Two Weeks and Rushed to Completion.

Messrs. R. R. Stone and E. P. Bailey, secretary-treasurer and general manager, respectively, of the Wilmington Marine Railway Company, returned to the city yesterday from Philadelphia and other points in the North where they went on business concerning the establishment of the plant of the new enterprise at this port. While on the trip they awarded the contract for erecting the marine railway to the firm of H. S. Crandall & Son, of Boston, Mass.

This firm is one of the largest corporations of its nature in the eastern section of the United States and is one of the most conservative and reliable. The firm has constructed marine railway plants in 83 different ports in the country, where they are now giving entire satisfaction, one of these being the mammoth Cramp shipyards in Philadelphia.

It is expected that the work on the plant will be started within the next two weeks. Mr. B. O. Stone, president of the company, stated yesterday that the contractors will send their men here within a few days to look over the ground and get things in readiness for the coming of the construction force, which will follow as soon as possible. Mr. Stone expects to see the railway completed and ready for the repairing of schooners, steamers and other ships within the next four or five months.

The Messrs. Stone and their associates show a most commendable spirit in establishing this much-needed enterprise here. Wilmington has long needed such an asset as the new marine railway will prove to be, and with a modern and completely equipped plant, such as will be erected, with facilities for handling the largest steamers that visit this port, hundreds and thousands of dollars that would otherwise be spent elsewhere will be diverted through the trade channels of the city and surrounding section and lend aid to the development of a greater Wilmington.

Another feature of the enterprise that will prove beneficial to the city is contained in the clause of the company's charter which gives them permission to conduct a ship chandlery business, to handle all the necessary repairing materials needed for the ships and to conduct many other lines of business allied to the shipping interests. It is understood that it is the intention of the firm to expand and to develop the different departments of the business as fast as possible, including the erection of several large storage warehouses.

NEGROES TAKEN TO RALEIGH

Tisdale and Davis Will Begin Their Long Sentences

James Tisdale and Solomon Davis, convicted to 15 and 20 year terms, respectively, in the State penitentiary at Raleigh, were taken to that city yesterday morning by Deputies A. L. Kelly and W. Harvey Cox, who will deliver them to authorities at the State prison.

Many of the friends of the convicted men were at the station to see them off and bid them farewell, and the prisoners seemed blad to see them. As the train pulled out Tisdale requested the assemblage to "write to us often and keep on a 'writin'."

Tisdale, who is a crippled negro, was convicted at a special term of court in Pender county, to which several cases were moved from New Hanover on the grounds that the State could not get justice here. He was found guilty of complicity with Dick Gause, colored, in the murder of another negro in a low gambling dive in the city. Tisdale was sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary and Gause was found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to electrocution, which sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment by the Governor.

Sol Davis was captured in Columbus county and brought back to this city during the past term of Superior Court. He was tried and found guilty of murder in the second degree of Walter Henry, colored, at Lingo Box Factory only a week or so before. The trial was probably the speediest on record in New Hanover county, and after the jury had been secured the case only consumed something less than an hour in all. Davis was sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary.

A MAMMOTH CARGO.

Brown Bros. to Receive Shipment Equal to 60 Car Loads.

Consigned to Brown Bros., the brokers, the largest cargo of case goods ever brought to this city by a sailing vessel is expected to arrive here Wednesday or Thursday. The cargo, which was shipped from Baltimore, Md., consists of canned goods and will be distributed by the consignees to the various wholesale grocers of the city. It will be discharged at the foot of Chesnut street and it is expected that it will require several days to complete the unloading of the vessel. It is said that the cargo equals the amount of goods that could be carried by nearly 60 freight cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Topperwein to Appear.

An announcement of interest to the local users of the scatter-gun is that Mr. and Mrs. Ad. Topperwein, of San Antonio, Texas, will be in this city and give a free trap-shooting exhibition on the grounds of the Wilmington Gun Club on October 20th. Mr. Topperwein is one of the best shotgun rifle and pistol shots in America, and his wife is noted as the champion lady marksman in the country. They are in the employ of the Winchester Arms Company and will appear here in the interests of that corporation. The Wilmington sportsmen will look forward to the exhibition with much interest.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Committee Will Make Report Thursday as to Clyde Line.

On Thursday of next week the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in the rooms of the organization and several matters of interest will no doubt claim the attention of the body. Chief among these probably will be the report of the committee appointed some time ago to take up with the Clyde Line Company the question of improved and more adequate steamship facilities between this port and New York City, the need of which has been keenly felt among the business men of the community for some time. It is understood that the committee, of which Mr. J. Allen Taylor is chairman, will report that an unfavorable reply had been received from the steamship company. The communication, it is said, is to the effect that the company may send a representative here later to look into the situation and to hear any complaints which the commercial organization desire to make. It is understood that the committee will report that this is too indefinite and is unsatisfactory.

At the meeting some time ago at which the committee was named, strong resolutions were adopted protesting against the present limited steamer service between Wilmington and New York and calling upon the Clyde Line to give another steamer a week, and if the better facilities are not provided by the Clyde Line people, then to endeavor to secure other steamship connections for Wilmington that will give the service desired.

COMES TO WILMINGTON

Mr. J. A. Wallace to Do Work Here for Seaboard Air Line

Having been given the contract for certain grading work in connection with the improvement of the Seaboard terminals in this city, Mr. J. A. Wallace, a well-known railroad contractor of Chester, S. C., is moving his equipment to Wilmington from Gibson, N. C., where he has been working for the past several months, and it is his purpose to begin work here Monday morning. He will work 18 or 20 laborers and hopes to complete the job in about 40 days.

Mr. Wallace went to Gibson yesterday from Charlotte to superintend the shipping of his tools and equipment. Mr. Wallace had intended to make the trip in his automobile, but his car was badly damaged in a collision with another car on the Sloan's ferry road about three miles from Charlotte early Thursday night. Mr. Wallace was taking Mrs. L. Roddey and her children to Gastonia on a visit to her daughter, who is in school near there, and Mrs. Roddey and daughter, Miss Mary Roddey, and son, Mr. Thomas Roddey, Jr., were injured more or less painfully, while Miss Jennie Roddey escaped injury. Mr. Wallace was not injured. The other car was owned by S. B. Alexander and none of the three occupants was injured.

JOHNSON RELEASED ON BOND

Negro Whom He Shot Cannot Be Found Since He Left Hospital

Will Johnson, colored, who has been in jail for some time on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon on Sylvester Ennett, colored, whom he shot through the eye, was released yesterday under $100 bond, with Mr. John Plummer as his surety.

Ennet was released from the James Walker Memorial Hospital on September 25th and although the officers have been looking for him ever since he has not been seen. He is wanted for a witness in the case and unless he appears it is likely that a nol pros will be taken. Johnson alleges that the shooting was purely accidental. It was stated at the hospital that Ennet had entirely recovered from the effects of his wound when he was allowed to leave the institution.

Ramsey was later arrested on the capias and was fined $5 and costs for his failure to appear. He was recognized to appear at today's session.

It is understood that the company has large stumpage in the territory in which they have located and that it will do a shipping business both by rail and by tidewater, which is available at Northwest. The gentlemen interested are from Philadelphia and are understood to be backed by large capital.

That the feeble hands and helpless
Groping blindly in the darkness,
Touch God's right hand in that darkness
And are lifted up and strengthened.

STRUCK ROUGH WEATHER.

Seven of Nine Racing Balloons for Cup Driven to Earth.

Kansas City, Oct. 6.—Rough weather today drove to earth seven of the nine racing balloons that left here yesterday in contests for the James Gordon Bennett trophy, the Lahm cup, and the altitude record. The other two bags that sailed have not been heard from.

The missing bags are the Condor, of France, and the Berlin II., of Germany.

No records were broken by any of the balloons that are down. The estimated distances ranged from 290 to 460 miles. Two fell in Wisconsin, two in Minnesota and three in Iowa.

Reports from the landed balloons bring stories of hard battles with a snow, rain and wind storm that raged high over northern Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin last night and today.

None of the flyers were seriously injured, but J. C. Hulburt, aide in the America II., sustained severe bruises when the bag was forced to descend.

The balloons landed as follows: America III., William F. Assman, pilot; J. C. Hulburt, aide, landed near Emmettsburg, Ia., at 1:30 A. M. today; estimated distance 290 miles.

Pennsylvania I. Ather Holt, pilot; E. R. Hunnewell, aide, landed near Buffalo Center, Ia., 6:20 A. M., estimated distance 300 miles.

Topeka II., Frank M. Jacobs pilot; W. W. Webb, aide, landed near Dunnell, Minn., 8:30 A. M., estimated distance 325 miles.

Berlin I., Leopold Vogt pilot; Lieut. Martin Schoeller, aide, landed near Austin, Minn., at 10 A. M., estimated distance 345 miles.

Buckeye Lieut. Frank C. Lahm pilot; J. C. Wade, Jr., aide, landed near LaCross, Wis., estimated distance 365 miles.

Kansas City II., J. C. Honeywell pilot; John Watts, aide, landed near Kenan, Wis., at 9:20 A. M., estimated distance 450 miles.

Million Population Club, landed at Mason City, Ia., at 5 P. M.

The Topeka II., and Kansas City II., were flying only for the Lahm cup and they failed to lift it. The America II., and Buckeye also were eligible to this event. The Lahm cup record 1,171.9 miles, held by Allen T. Hawley, was not even approximated. Foreign balloons cannot compete for the Lahm cup.

The Pennsylvania was trying for the altitude records. It is not known what height the bag reached.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 3.—Federal control of natural resources, in accordance with present methods, has been declared against by the public lands convention. Resolutions were adopted setting forth that public domain is held by the Federal government in trust primarily for the benefit of those citizens of the United States who will locate, settle upon, develop and improve the same. The convention practically closed with the report of the committee on permanent organization today.

SEISMIC DISTURBANCES

Earthquake in Hayti, Tremors Recorded in This Country

Port Au Prince, Hayti, October 6.—A heavy earthquake occurred here at 5:30 o'clock this morning.

The movement was from east to west and continued for thirty seconds. The shocks were accompanied by subterranean rumblings. No damage was done.

Mobile, Ala., October 6.—The seismograph at Springhill College here recorded a severe earthquake at 4 o'clock this morning, which according to calculations, was probably about 700 miles distant. It is believed the earthquake must have occurred in Northern Mexico.

The strength of the wave was equal in both components. The main shock had been preceded by continuous tremors since last Friday. There was a slight let-up yesterday and scarcely anything last night indicating trouble, but the seismograph disturbance grew intense at 4 o'clock this morning.

Washington, October 6.—An earth shock estimated to have occurred at a distance of about 2,500 miles from Washington, was recorded this morning at Georgetown University observatory. The disturbance began at 5:21 o'clock and lasted more than forty minutes.

New Orleans, Oct. 6.—An earthquake described as very heavy and destructive and estimated by Observer Franckhauser, of Loyola University, to be approximately 2,500 miles southeast of New Orleans, probably in Ecuador, was recorded this morning on the seismograph at this institution.

New Orleans, Oct. 6.—With the registering of this disturbance there is recorded an advanced step in seismography in that the earthquake was predicted by Father Franckhauser, through the aid of micro-seismograms four days ago.

Although he was not able on Monday, when his prediction was issued, to give the probable distance or direction of the disturbance he foretold a severe shock within five days from that date.

THE NORFOLK MIX-UP.

Will be No Second Primary the State Chairman Says.

Petersburg, Va., Oct. 6.—Chairman Robert Gilliam, of the sub-committee of the State Democratic Committee, stated tonight there will be no new primary for four Norfolk county nominations which were thrown out by the State committee because of alleged fraud and voting of Republicans in the Democratic primaries there last Summer. There are four offices for which nominations are to be made and but one candidate for each nomination fired his candidacy with Mr. Gilliam here tonight. Each is of the "straight-out" Democratic faction. No fusionists having filed and there being no opposition, the sub-committee will meet in Norfolk tomorrow and declare the four men nominees for the office.

SLAYERS BEING SOUGHT.

Deputy Sheriffs Take Blood Hounds to Assist in Pursuit.

Barboursville, Ky., Oct. 6.—Deputy Sheriffs Andrew Mitchell and Clarence Mitchell left here last night with blood hounds to assist in the apprehension of persons connected with the homicides that took place near Cumberland Gap on Tuesday when Deputy Sheriff James Collins, of Bell county, was mortally wounded and his two sons, Olin and Russell Collins, were killed, while attempting to take into custody Mrs. Sirelda Denny Barnett, wanted as a witness at Pineville.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Today the birthday and anniversary of Sam Davis, the Confederate boy scout, hanged as a spy at Pulaski, Tenn., in 1864, is being commemorated by various Tennessee chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy. The main celebration was here, the exercises being held at the magnificent statue of the young hero on the State capitol grounds.

Fredericksburg, Va., Oct. 6.—Haydon Bozell, charged with embezzling $5,000 from the office of the Adams Express Company, was today released on $3,000 bond. His case comes up for trial October 19th.

PLUCKY AVIATOR KILLED

Cromwell Dixon Victim at Spokane, Wash., Fair Yesterday.

Spokane, Wash., Oct., 2.—Cromwell Dixon, who aviated across the Rocky Mountains last Saturday, fell 100 feet at the Inter-State Fair Grounds here today and received injuries which caused his death.

Caught by an adverse current of air, Dixon's machine turned on its side and plunged into a rocky railroad cut. While falling Dixon pluckily attempted to right his aeroplane and shouted to the spectators: "Here I go; here I go."

He was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to a hospital, where it was found that his skull was fractured, his right leg broken and his collar bone shattered. He died within an hour.

DOCTORS ADVISED THE HOSPITAL

Mrs. Herberger, Who Would Not Consent to Go There, Finally Relieved at Home

St. Louis, Mo.—Mrs. Mary Herberger, of this city, says: "I was sick in bed for ten weeks, with womanly troubles, and had four of the best doctors waiting on me.

Every one of them said I would have to go to the hospital and have an operation, but I would not consent to that.

I thought I would give Cardui a trial. When I began to take the first bottle, I could not turn over in bed, but had to be lifted.

Before I finished the first bottle, my pains were leaving me, slowly, and soon I was out of bed and walking around.

My pains have not come back, since. I weigh 155 pounds and feel fine. Cardui saved me from an operation. I am going to keep it in the house, for I would not be without it."

Cardui's strengthening effects quickly show themselves in many different ways. This is because the ingredients, from which it is made, go to the source of the trouble, and by acting specifically on the cause, relieve or cure and help bring back health and strength.

In the past 50 years, more than a million women have been benefitted by Cardui. Just try it.

..Theatrical..

At matinee and night today the Academy will make a mammoth musical offering and one that has been lavished with praise by the press of both Virginia and North Carolina, playing to packed houses everywhere. This big attraction will be popular "Mutt and Jeff." The production is under the direction of Guss Hill, the prominent New York manager. "Mutt and Jeff," as is universally known, are those two comics, the creation of Bud Fisher, the clever cartoonist. This is the first time that the pair have adorned the stage and from all accounts they are adorning their new environment with flying colors. The comedy has a plot in which the interest is sustained from start to finish. Seats for both performances are

Story of "The Clansman"

The story of Thomas Dixon's celebrated drama, "The Clansman," a revival of which will appear at the Academy, matinee and night, Monday, is well-known to all theatre-goers. However, in view of the coming engagement of the play, it may be well to mention it. "The Clansman" is briefly the story of how the descendants of the Scottish clans, living in the South Carolina hill country, rose up in the year of 1867 and threw off the carpetbagger yoke. Their agency in effecting this result was the celebrated Ku Klux Klan. The hero of the play, Ben Cameron, is a leader of the Klan. His sweetheart, Elsie Stoneman, is the daughter of an Abolitionist, the organizer of the hated Union League. Here is the interplay of love and hate, of passion and circumstance, in which the dramatist delights.

Seats for both performances go on sale at Plummer's this morning.

Two Creatore Concerts

As a musician, Sig. Creatore, who is to appear at the Academy, matinee and night, Tuesday, takes rank with the foremost conductors of the day, and his organization is said to be well nigh perfect. One of the leading features of Creatore's Band is the marvelous precision of its members. Every chord is played as if by a single instrument, and that with a crispness that is almost startling. Another feature of the band is the splendid crescendo effects. Strange as it may seem this leader plays through heavy programmes without a note to guide him, and the band's repertoire is one of the most extensive known. On a tour to Canada in 1910 this organization created a real sensation. By special arrongement the prices, save for box seats, will go no higher than $1. Seats for both concerts will be on sale at Plummer's Monday.

"The Gamblers"

"The Gamblers" will be the attraction at the Academy next Wednesday night, October 11th. This splendidly constructed and intensely interesting drama by Charles Klein, established the record for long runs among serious plays of the past season, remaining at Maxine Elliott's Theatre, New York, for over 200 consecutive performances.

The story has to do with a young financier who has followed in the footsteps of others desiring to gain a fortune in too short a time. He finds himself involved with the Federal government through the misuse of the funds of a banking institution of which he is the brains. At the very moment he obtains the sum needed to straighten out the financial tangle, one of his partners, frightened by threats of jail sentence, turns over to the prosecuting attorney certain notes that are sufficient evidence to send to prison the heads of the bank, including the young man's father, who is innocent of wrong doing. Seats will go on sale Tuesday at Plummer's.

At the Bijou

The popular Bijou will bring its successful week to a glorious climax today with one of the best bills it has yet presented. The week end is always a gala time at this attractive theatre and today will be in keeping with the usual merry order of things. Complete changes will be made in every department, and the music will be of especially jolly nature, Mr. Frank Banks rendering Broadway's biggest hit. The films will be of particularly clever nature. The variety will be splendid, and fun photo-plays will play a large and most hilarious part. It is well to note the star film for today. It is "The Summer Girl," and it is a rattler for brightness. It depicts many inside jolly scenes such as go on every Summer at Wrightsville Beach. For this reason it will be especially interesting. Today's Bijou bill should certainly not be missed.

The New Lyric.

This theatre is well prepared to take care of the usual Saturday throngs, and has an extra good programme on for today. Besides the all-star vaudeville acts, there will be a big galaxy of pictures, headed by a Pathe production, "Lieutenant Scott's Narrow Escape," which furnishes some thrills that are new, followed by an Edison comic and a Lubin production in the same class, and for a finale, a Kalem film depicting Western scenes, that is full of spectacular cowboy riding. The prices of 5 and 10 cents still prevail.

The Grand Theatre.

Two big photoplays and a brand new character song by Nat Hilt will make up a big Saturday bill at The Grand today. Hilt's song will be a comedy scream, "If I Could See as Far Ahead as I Can See Behind," and the pictures will be a Kalem production of "The Saving Sign," an historic Indian drama. The other will be an Edison film, "An Unknown Language," a great comedy offering.

PROBING SENATOR'S ELECTION

Stephenson Acknowledges Spending $107,793 in Campaign

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 2.—On the witness stand before the Senatorial Investigating Committee for three hours, to answer charges that bribery and corrupt use of money had contributed to his election, U. S. Senator Isaac Stephenson today testified that, although he spent $107,793 in his campaign, he had little knowledge as to just how it was spent except that it was not used in violation of the law. The details, he said, he had left to his campaign managers. As an instance of his ignorance of just where the money went he cited an item of $11,000 for postage.

"When my campaign for nomination by the primaries in 1908 came up, I could lay awake nights trying to figure how the postage was used. I gave sums of money to my managers and told them to carry on a vigorous campaign and do everything to elect me, except that they must keep within the law. I cautioned them not to violate the law in any particular. So far as I know, they obeyed me."

Citing proportionately large expenses for advertising, buttons, lithograph, advertising in newspapers and traveling expenses, the witness testified he frequently asked where so much money was going, but, on being told it was a close fight and the State had to be systematically canvassed to elect him, he questioned the matter no further.

Continuing his testimony, Mr. Stephenson declared he had given for campaign purposes sums of money to men who, afterwards became candidates for the Legislature and some of them were elected but he was not aware of their candidacy when he gave them money.

Atlanta, Ga., October 5.—"Home rule for Cities" occupied the attention of the delegates to the convention of the League of American Municipalities, here, today, featured by a debate between Mayor J. G. Riddick, of Norfolk and John MacVicar, of Des Moines, Ia., on the subject of "Commission Government."

COTTON IS STILL DECLINING

Heavy Selling With Low Records on the Market Yesterday—Loss of From 14 to 19 Points—Features.

New York, October 6.—There was heavy selling in the cotton market again today, and another set of new low records was established, with the close a shade up from the lowest on covering, but barely steady at a net loss of from 14 to 19 points. The opening was easy, at a decline of 8@10 points and active positions quickly sold from 9 to 12 points under the closing figures of yesterday, owing to lower cables, reports that the South was offering spot cotton more freely to Liverpool, and the favorable showings of the early weather map. The western belt forecast for colder weather stimulated some realizing by shorts and a little buying for a reaction on which prices rallied five or six points from the lowest during the middle of the morning, but there seemed little apprehension of frost, the South was a heavier seller here than yesterday, private advices from the eastern belt told of easier spot markets and prices soon weakened again. It looked as if recent buyers for a reaction were liquidating, and taking the short side again on the break, which uncovered stop orders and before the decline was checked, October contracts had sold at 9.62, December at 9.80 and January at 9.65, with the general list showing a loss of from 19 to 23 points. Covering for over the week end became quite active around these figures, and prices rallied slightly, but held no improvement of consequence as the close was only from 3 to 4 points up from the lowest on active positions. There was some buying by spot people during the day, but spot houses were also sellers and it seemed that nearly all the wire and commission with Southern connections were sellers at one time or another, on the decline. Local spot people claimed that the South has been hedging or selling against excess receipts more extensively this season than for years past, and also say that the demand from the mills is confined to small lots as a rule. The weekly into-sight figures proved rather under expectations, but exceeded last year's by about 94,000 bales, and evidently exerted no bullish influence in the late trading.

Receipts, 65,652, against 88,045 bales of cotton last week and 50,512 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 5,705, against 2,263 last year, and at Houston, 16,569 bales, against 18,613 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 15 points lower; middling uplands, 995; do. gulf, 10.20; sales, 600 bales.

Futures closed barely steady.

REACTION IN STOCK MARKET

Vigorous Assault Upon the Market Following President Taft's Speech—Movements of the Stocks

New York, Oct. 6.—The reactionary tendency which has appeared in the stock market this week received added impetus today from President Taft's uttetrance in Idaho concerning the policy of the American toward the corporations. The chief executive's declaration that prosecution of unlawful combinations must go on, and that the administration would not seek to avoid the responsibilities which the law clearly imposed upon it, while in its essence a reiteration of his well known views, was followed by a vigorous assault upon the market.

The President's remarks declaring demagogic attacks upon corporate interests and asserting his intention to stand by the railroads as long as they obeyed the laws and kept out of politics, went unheeded. It was contended that the speech would create renewed uneasiness and that it demonstrated conclusively that no change in the policy of the administration was to be expected. The market sold off and was heavy through the remainder of the day.

Selling quite naturally converged in United States Steel, owing to the recent violent movements of this stock and the uncertainty as to whether the government contemplates the filing of a suit for dissolution of the Steel Corporation. The stock gave way before the attack, and ended the day nearly two points below the previous day's close.

Trading was slow throughout the day. The demand was limited and the market offered little resistance to pressure. Increasing indications of an earnest fight against the dissolution plan of the American Tobacco Company and indictments of officials of the so-called Wall Paper Trust, contributed to the market's unsettlement.

The bond market was firm.

American Tobacco issues were heavy on account of the opposition to the foreign plan. Some important advances were made in less active bonds.

Total sales for the day, 469,100 shares.

IS THE WORLD GROWING BETTER?

Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers, everywhere, to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully." They'll help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

REVIEW OF COTTON FOR WEEK

Market Has Declined Owing to Favorable Crop Reports—Belief That Crop is Largest Ever Raised—Features.

New York, October 6.—Cotton has declined owing to favorable crop, weather and ginning reports, together with heavy receipts and large selling. The South has been a persistent and liberal seller on hedges. This is explained by the dullness of the markets for actual cotton at the South. On the basis of the crop report of last Monday, many estimate the crop at from 14,000,000 to 16,000,000 bales, though others put it under 14,000,000. There is a very prevalent belief here that the crop is one of the largest if not the largest, ever raised. It is also considered one of the earliest in point of development. With the ginning up to September 25th reaching the unprecedented total 3,663,000 bales as against the previous high record in 1908 of 2,590,639 bales.

Bears have been greatly encouraged. They have also been inspired by the fact that the condition of 71.1 on September 25th was the highest at that since 1906 and was about 4 1-2 per cent. better than the ten-year average. The operations on the short side by Wall street, Waldorf-Astoria and some Southern operators for the decline have been on a large scale.

Although within the week the Wall street and Waldorf interests, have, according to the common understanding, covered some 300,000 bales and were at one time holding aloof awaiting a rally in order to sell again, they seemed to have become impatient on Thursday and the failure of the market to move up on frost predictions and they were understood to have then sold about 100,000 bales short. Yarns in Philadelphia have been weaker and although other cotton goods have been in rather better demand, the condition of the textile trades in this country is still said to have been more or less satisfactory. India and the continent have been large buyers of future in Liverpool and Lancashire's trade has been so brisk that some are predicting a boom in the near future. Jobbers stocks of goods in this country are believed to be very light. One of the largest cotton manufacturing corporations at Fall River, comprising seven mills, will resume work on the ninth instant. Not a few believe that if prices decline much further the spinners of the world will purchase far beyond the requirements for actual consumption. Meanwhile, prices for raw cotton are about 4 per cents a point of $20 a bale lower than at this time last year, a fact which not a few contend very largely discounts whatever bearish factors there may be in the situation. Of late, too, the spot markets of the South have shown some strength and the exports have been large. Prices here, however, recently have shown still further declines on heavy hedge selling by the South and selling by prominent Wall street and Waldorf operators.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Movemment of Trade Continues Large —Foreign Report Good.

New York, October 6.—R. G. Dun & Co's. weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say: In spite of war, industrial disputes and other influences tending to impair confidence and retard enterprise the movement of traue continues large, although still below producing capacity and the recent gradual improvement is maintained The best feature of the business situation is shown not only in the statistics of foreign commerce but appears also in the reports of specific trades. The situation in iron and steel is still marked by considerable irregularity and there undoubtedly has been a sharp falling off in the volume of business since August. Orders now being placed, however, are expanding, especially in iron pipe, while the railroads are buying rails more freely.

Cotton goods mills are working into a better position in consequence of the lower cost of the staple and values of finished goods tend downward. This is more noticeable in the primary gray goods than in jobbing departments. Staple prints are being sold steadily and miscellaneous export trade promises to be broader. Colored cottons are generally steady but bleached and brown domestics are being bought from hand to mouth. There is a small gain in the volume of operations in the woolen and worsted mills and the volume of September business as a whole was good. Jobbers are doing a moderate seasonable trade and retailers are repealing their orders steadily showing a better buying condition at the counters. Spring business is opening slowly in silks and trade as a rule is quiet. Shoes are moving quietly with a small but steady improvement and leather and hides are firmly held.

New York, October 6.—The cotton goods markets are steady and the demand is broadening. Staple prints and brown cottons are being ordered in larger quantities. The local wool markets have shown more breadth in the past few days. Yarns are in steadier request.

President Taft insists that the trusts must go, but it is a million to one shot that they will remain so long as Mr. Taft continues in the Presidency and the Republican party retains control of the Washington government.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, October 6.—Prospect of a huge increase in the visible supply total made wheat sag today as trading came to an end. The close was ¼ to ¼ under last night. In corn the outcome proved to be a net loss of ⅛@⅜ to ⅜, and for oats a decline of a shade to ⅛. Provisions wound up all the way from 2½ lower to a rise of 15.

FATAL FIGHT AT CHURCH

Negroes Quarreled Over Ringing Bell —Ohio Farmers at Washington

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., October 6.—News reached this city yesterday of the murder of Alex. Harper, colored, last Sunday night near the township of South Creek, about 40 miles from this city. It seems that Harper was the sexton of a colored church in that vicinity and about 7:30 o'clock another negro, Thomas Barnes and his wife, were the first to arrive at the church, another negro woman Josephine Yates, soon followed and proceeded to ring the church bell before the arrival of Harper. Harper hearing the bell soon put in his appearance and became very much enraged with the woman for her act. Becoming very abusive, Barnes proceeded to take a hand in the rucus and in a few minutes there was a general mix-up. Barnes, it is said, knocked Harper down and clubbed him to death, making his escape immediately afterwards, and at last reports is still at large.

At 5:30 o'clock this afternoon a special train carrying a representative party of Ohio farmers and homeseekers will arrive in this city on a prospecting tour. While in this city the party will be the guests of the Chamber of Commerce. The party will be given a royal welcome by the citizens and a large number of representative farmers from this and adjoining counties, and the Chamber of Commerce, and welcoming talks will be made by Congressman Jno. H. Small and others and everything possible will be done to render their visit pleasant while in the city. The party will remain over in Washington until Saturady afternoon.

Henry Abel, a white man, confined in the county jail in this city on a charge of burglary, from Bath, and awaiting trial, succeeded in making his escape sometime last night between the hours of 8 P. M. and 5 A. M., by means of a small saw, with which he sawed through the iron bars of his cell. There were two other prisoners on minor offenses also confined in the jail but they did not attempt to escape. Abel is still at large although every effort is being made to capture him.

The Roanoke Baptist Association will meet in the local church Tuesday for a two-day's session. Rev. C. W. Blanchard, of Wilson, will preach the opening sermon. A large number of ministers and delegates are expected to attend.

CAPT. BERRY'S EXPERIENCE

Balloonist Fouled a Barn and Then Flew Away With Him

Mason City, Iowa, Oct. 56—Captain John Berry, veteran of many thrilling baloon flights, went through the worst experience of his career late today when he attempted to bring the balloon Million Population Club to the ground.

The balloonist's anchor struck a barn and tilted the basket so that A. J. McCullough, aide to Captain Berry, was thrown out and Berry saved himself by clinging to the rope after the big gas bag, relieved of McCullough's weight, shot upward. Dangling by the rope, Berry was carried hundreds of feet into the air and an hour later came safely to earth several miles south of the city, when the balloon losing its buoyancy, settled. Berry did not try to anchor the aerostat and it sailed away to the southwest until lost in the darkness.

McCullough was thoroughly and severely bruised by his fall. Berry's experience seemingly left him without a mark. The barn where the landing was first attempted was destroyed by the balloon anchor. Berry returned here late tonight.

TEACHERS' TRAINING SCHOOL

Third Year Began in September—The Outlook Flattering

Greenville, N. C., October 6.—The East Carolina Teachers' Training School began its third year September 26th with a much increased attendance. Thursday, September 28th, President Wright delivered an address to the student body welcoming them to the institution, and outlining their work for them.

Saturday evening, September 30th, the Young Woman's Christian Association gave a reception to the faculty and the new students. This was a most enjoyable occasion. The Young Woman's Christian Association is the center of the religious life of the school and is a strong factor in the up-building of character.

Today is the third anniversary of the opening of the school. At 9:30 o'clock the students were assembled and Governor Thomas J. Jarvis delivered an address before them. It was a masterly effort and was much appreciated by the student body.

The cadets dismissed ade Ralph I. Sasse, of Delaware, third class; John D. Christian, of Virginia, fourth class; Tatnall D. Simkins, of Georgia, third class; Elcott H. Freeland, of South Carolina, third class.

The boys whose sentences were commuted are Glenn R. Butler, of Ohio; Edward S. Moale, of California; Joseph D. Arthur, Jr., of South Carolina, and Thomas E. Bass, of Virginia.

GOLDEN JUBILEE MEETING

Great Gathering in Greensboro, October 13th and 14th.

In commemoration of the close of the first half century of organized missionary work by woman for woman, a series of carefully planned Jubilee Meetings are being held throughout the cities of America. One of these will be held at Greensboro, October 13th to 14th.

The Jubilee party, organized for systematic, effective work, will be made up of the most noted and attractive speakers in the missionary field, among them being Mrs. Peabody, of wide knowledge and experience; Miss Crane, secretary of the Southern Baptist Woman5s Missionary Work; Miss Davies, field secretary of Woman's Foreign Missionary Work of the Scuthern Methodist Episcopal Church; Miss Miller, of the Christian church; Miss Lindley, of the Episcopal Church; Mrse. Sallee and representatives from the Presbyterian and Congregational Churches. In addition to these, a number of returned missionaries not of the party,, will be in attendance, and the two days set apart for the Jubilee celebration will be filled to overflowing with inspiring talks and conferences, denominational rallies, drawing room receptions and other meetings of semi-social character, giving every one interested an opportunity to meet and get in closer touch with these earnest and untiring workers; to become thoroughly imbued with the missionary spirit, and to carry away with them some of their enthusiasm, energy and power. A feature of the Jubilee will be the luncheon in the beautiful and spacious dining hall of the State Normal College, with a seating capacity of six hundred. This luncheon arranged by the committee on entertainment, will be prepared under the direction of the Domestic Science Department of the State Normal College, the price of plates being a nominal sum—merely enough to cover actual cost.

Special arrangements have been made for board and rooms for visitors and a list and rate may be had by writing Mrs. F. P. Morton, chairman Entertainment Committee, Greensboro.

Reduced railroad rates will be given, and Greensboro invites the entire State to take part in this most notable and significant event—to share with her the honor and privilege of this glorious anniversary.

SUBMERGED MENTAL AFFAIRS.

John Armstrong Chaloner Explains Who's Loony.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 6.—A mysterious "submerged mental equipment" which he called "X-faculty" and to which he credited wonderful performances, including straight stock market tips, was described today by John Armstrong Chaloner when he resumed his deposition before United States Commissioner Booth in the suit for control of his New York estate and the right to freedom as a sane man in New York.

The psychological power Chaloner explained, like the "animal magnetism" he described Tuesday, "could not be used when he observed a strictly vegetarian diet."

As an example of the working of his "X-faculty", Chaloner told of carrying on a dialogue with the "power" a few nights before Christmas in 1896. To test the accuracy of a tip given by the "power," he said he caught a train for New York, invested $600 on the stock market and doubled his money. He left the money up for further gains, he said, and the late Stanford White drew it out after he, Chaloner, had been committed to Bloomingdale asylum.

Chaloner took pains to explain that he did not believe in spiritualism and that his power was a part of his own mental equipment under the domination of his own will and reason.

The deposition probably will be completed tomorrow.

INDEPENDENT DEALERS.

Will Act on Proposed Disintegration of Tobacco Trust.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Organization of independent tobacco dealers who claim they will oppose any disintegration scheme of the "trust" that does not contemplate restoring the tobacco industry to conditions that prevailed before there was any combination, forecasts a protracted struggle when public discussion of the American Tobacco Company's re-organization plans begins next week before the Federal Circuit Court.

The attitude of the Federal government is as yet uncertain. Attorneys for the tobacco trust ordered dissolved by the Supreme Court expected to submit their scheme to Attorney General Wickersham today.

The plan has been discussed by the tobacco companies' attorneys, the attorney general and the judges of the Circuit Court at several conferences, and so far as its main points are concerned, was considered generally satisfactory.

TOUR ACROSS CONTINENT.

Western Organization Says Auto Journey Will Not be Difficult.

New York, Oct. 6.—A plan for a 1915 Glidden tour to extend from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific has been submitted to the American Automobile Association officials by a Western organization which thinks that the run would prove a popular feature in connection with the world's fair scheduled as a part of the Panama Canal opening celebration.

This very considerable journey, the promoters say, will be easy of accomplishment if efforts are made from now on to build a national highway east and west. Inasmuch as many persons are expected to visit California when the world's fair is on, it is urged as an entirely natural thing that many should come by automobile.

San Antonio, Texas., Oct. 6.—Arrangements were made today by friends of Gen. Bernardo Reyes for a demonstration upon his arrival here. It is expected that agents of Francisco I. Madero will take part in the demonstration. Search is being made for a spacious residence to serve as the home and headquarters for Reyes.

New Orleans, Oct. 5.—An innovation in college athletics was made yesterday when Miss Fannie Eelforth, a senior of Newcomb college, was appointed active assistant manager of the Tulane football team. Miss Seiforth is believed to be the only girl holding a similar position actively in any of the large universities.

SEABOARD AIR LINE IS SUED

Florida Railway Wants to Recover $6,000,000—Conspiracy Alleged

Jacksonville, Fla., October 6.—Suit for the recovery of $6,000,000 damages were filed today in the United States Court here by the Florida Railway Company, against the Seaboard Air Line Railway, the Knickerbocker Trust Company, of New York; Charles K. Keep, Francis Henderson, R. V. Matthews, C. W. Lucas and Frank Q. Brown, of New York, and H. Reiman Duval, of New Jersey.

George M. Powell, a stockholder in the Florida Railway Company, instituted the suit, conspiracy being charged to the defendants.

This suit promises to attrack national attention, plaintiffs claiming they will show violation of the Sherman law.

Several years ago the owners of the road, which was then operating between Live Oak, Fla., and Perry, Fla., seeing that it was only a feeder to the act, and the act decided to extend the road to two Atlantic ports, Fernandina and Jacksonville.

The financial provisions for such an extension was successfully concluded and the bonds for the extension were floated, the Carnegie Trust Company, of New York, being selected to handle the bonds. In January of the present year the Carnegie Trust Company failed and the Florida Railway Company was put to the necessity of placing the business in other hands.

The Knickerbocker Trust Company later was selected as trustee and agent for the bonds which had been sold to French capitalists.

Later in the proceedings the purchasers of the bonds demanded their delivery which was delayed by the Knickerbocker Trust Company and demands of the Florida Railway Company for the return of the bonds, it is alleged were also met with refusal. Because of the delay of the Knickerbocker Company, the railway directors commenced an investigation and ascertained, it is charged, that the actions of the Knickerbocker Trust Company were instigated by two directors of that firm who, it is alleged, were also directors of the Seaboard Air Line Railway.

Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, has started an investigation into the case, seeking to prove whether or not the Sherman anti-trust law has been violated. The French government, through the appeals of the purchaser or purchasers of bonds, has also brought the matter to the attention of the government, asking that the purchaser be protected and that the responsibility for loss to him be fixed.

It is charged by the directors of the Florida Railway Company, that in the alleged attempt to prevent the delivery of the bonds and the completion of the work of the Florida Railway Company to an Atlantic port, the Knickerbocker Trust Company and the Seaboard Air Line Railway have entered into conspiracy to restrain trade and commerce.

CONTROL OF WATER FRONT.

New Orleans Mayor Says It is a Municipal Function.

Atlanta, Oct. 6.—"That the effective control of railroad terminals is to be found only in public ownership and operation of such facilities has been demonstrated by the experience of the city of New Orleans, which now owns and operates a belt railroad."

This was the keynote of an address delivered at today's session of the convention of the League of American Municipalities by Mayor Martin Behrman, of New Orleans, Mayor Behrman expressed his disapproval of the granting of valuable street franchises to private railroad corporations because such conditions, he said, hampered public commerce.

After referring to the fact that New Orleans absolutely controls and administers its water front, Mayor Behrman recited these facts concerning the successful operation of the municipality owned terminal, laying particular stress upon the belt railroad. "The board of port commissioners has spent in the construction of immense wharves covered by steel sheds affording adequate space for the accumulation of cargoes $3,500,000. Eighty-three per cent. of the tonnage arriving at the port is handled over the public wharf system. This board has cheapened the cost of handling commerce and has a surplus resulting from operation of nearly $713,000.

"The total amount expended by the levee board on account of levee improvements during the past four years has amounted to nearly $3,800,000, including the purchase of property for levee purposes.

"The existing trackage consists of 29 miles, including main line and switches; equipment seven engines. Every public wharf, several public delivery trucks and numerous large industries are being served. A corps of employes subject to the civil service regulations of the city government operates the railroad.

"The municipal belt railroad is also used to advantage in transporting the garbage of New Orleans to the rear of the city, where it is utilized in filling waste lands.

"It may truly be said that the service of the New Orleans belt now assures the prompt and economical transfer of merchandise in railway cars from railroad to railroad, between railroads and steamers and industries, and has made accessible its wonderful natural facilities to the trunk lines which have sought entrance to the city. The service is cheaper than the trunk lines can perform like service for their own account, the charge being $2 per car, regardless of tonnage."

PANAMAN PRESIDENT.

Supreme Court Rules the Proposed Vacation is Merely Evasion.

Washington, Oct. 6.—That the United States may have to act in the political embroglio in Panama growing out of President Arosemena's notice that he will take a six month "vacation" so that he may qualify for what amounts to re-election, was indicated today by the activity of leaders of the Panama Liberal party in Washington, who denounce Arosemena's proposed action as evasion.

The Liberals assert the Supreme Court of Panama will not recognize Arosemena's proposed vacation as compliance with the law that prohibits from election to the Presidency a man who has held the office six months previously, and Washington may be obliged to step in and tell Arosemena how far he can go in his political moves.

THE PUBLIC LANDS

President Tells What He Proposes to Do This Winter

Boise, Idaho, October 6.—Former Governor Brady, of Idaho, today promised President Taft to bring 13 Western Governors to Washington next Winter to help him out in the threshing out the question of the public domain. The Governor did not elaborate on his idea for the solution of the public lands question, but Mr. Taft himself promised to do all in his power at the next session of Congress to have legislation enacted that will dispose of some of the difficulties now confronting sellers of public lands. Such legislation, the President said, would not interfere with the policy of conservation. The principal grievances of settlers, the President found are the short time in which first payments for land are required; the length of tenure demanded of a settler before he becomes owner of the land, and the fact that even after a tenure of five years title to the land does not pass. He declared that there was no reason to doubt that Congress would settle them at the next session. It was at Caldwell that the President made his promise for legislation next Winter.

Mr. Taft spent the day in Idaho, waking up at Pocatello to "go ashore" from his train and make his first address, and practically closing the day's work here tonight with a speech to several thousand persons.

U. S. Senator Borah and former Governor Brady accompanied him on the trip across the State. After leaving Pocatello Mr. Taft visited the Canyon county fair at Caldewll.
